

ALMENDRALEJO CAPTURED BY REBELS

Battle in Court
Over Operation

The spotlight glared on these three persons as San Francisco's heaviest sterilization case got under way. Above is Ann Cooper Hewitt, 21, the prosecution's "face," who charged Mrs. Tilton E. Tilton, left, and Samuel G. Boyd, right, performed an operation depriving her of the privilege of motherhood. Ann's mother is charged, in a separate damage suit, with having arranged the operation.

HEWITT CASE PLOT DENIED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Russell B. Tyler, attorney for sterilized Ann Cooper Hewitt in a $500,000 damage suit against her mother and two society doctors, today denied repeatedly he had "plotted" to obtain control of Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt's fortune, using Ann as a foil.

Tyler's denials were made today as he underwent cross-examination in the maiden trial of Mrs. Tilton E. Tilton and Samuel G. Boyd, whom the state charges conspired with Mrs. Cooper Hewitt to have her daughter sterilized and thus deprive her of her share of the Peter Cooper Hewitt millions.

Tyler not only denied any "diabolical plot" existed but denied defense intimations he first was Mrs. Hewitt's attorney, learned the provisions of the Cooper Hewitt will, and then trailed her "legal affections to Ann" and attempted to extort large sums from her mother.

Defense Attorney I. M. Golden, cross-examining Tyler, attempted to make Tyler admit he and others conspired against Dr. Boyd.

ARNST DIVORCE GRANTED

RENO, Nev., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Bobbie Arnst, musical comedy and film dancing star and ex-wife of Johnny Weissmuller, former swimming champion and "Tarzan" of the movies, was granted an uncontested divorce today from Robert A. Cavanaugh, Chicago attorney.

GARDEN GROVE MAN IS DEAD; HURT IN CRASH

FRACTURE OF SKULL CAUSE OF FATALITY

Automobile Accident Death
Total Mounts to 49 in Orange County

DEATH of Blas Salazar, 35, of Seventeenth street and Garden Grove road, Garden Grove, at 11 o'clock last night in Orange county hospital, from skull fracture and possible internal injuries, scored another blot on the county's traffic record as it brought the total for this year to 49. Last year at the same time, 37 persons had died as the result of traffic accidents.

Salazar's car collided Wednesday afternoon, 1 p. m., August 5, at Lampson and Ninth streets, Garden Grove, with an automobile operated by Mrs. Carrie Lou Sutherland, 37, of Garden Grove and 2120 Electric lane, Seal Beach. Four persons were injured in the collision—Salazar, 29, of some address, and Mrs. Sutherland and her daughter, Juan Louise Sutherland, 11. The deceased was the only one severely injured in the crash.

Mrs. Sutherland told California highway patrol officers she was going south on Ninth street and had entered its intersection with

49 RETURNS SHOW F. O. R. LOSING

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Returns from political conventions and conferences held so far in this campaign year reveal a serious anti-Roosevelt movement developing from coast to coast.

Some observers believe minority attacks on Mr. Roosevelt in behalf of Candidate William Lemke of the Union party aided chances of the election of Gov. Alf M. Landon. The coalition of Democrats, various independents and Liberals which elected Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 as thought in danger of disintegration.

A formidable movement of denunciation passed in review here last week in Father Charles E. Coughlin's convention of the National Union for Social Justice. He claims 1,600,000 (M) active members and 4,000,000 (M) additional sympathizers, making a minimum of 5,600,000 (M) prospective voters under his leadership alone.

And the priest says if he doesn't get at least 9,000,000 (M) votes for Lemke he will give up the radio.

Without the priest and his national union the anti-Roosevelt movement still would be an important factor in the November election.

Coughlin candidate is Lemke against whom the odds are so great

COOLING RAINS IN MIDDLEWEST

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Scattered showers broke over the heat-drenched middlewest today. Thunder storms rumbled over seven states in an area where nearly half a hundred persons died under parching rays of the sun since August 1. Weather forecasters said danger of another wide-spread heat wave was abated.

Cooling rains fell over eastern North Dakota, Central South Dakota, Southern Wisconsin, Northern Illinois, Eastern Iowa, Northeastern Missouri and Northeastern Indiana. Broken, scattered clouds, except over the "dust bowl," covered most of the remaining area, forecasters said.

But they predicted no relief from record-breaking temperatures in western Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri where thermometer readings continued over 100 degrees.

The blow which drought and weather struck at the grain belt yesterday sent corn prices swirling.

WOMAN LEAPS SEVEN STORIES TO DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Berdie B. Dewar, 55, after carefully wrapping her head in a blanket and pulling on white kid gloves to protect her face and hands from disfigurement, leaped to her death from her seventh floor room in a downtown Olive street hotel today.

A series of "suicide notes" according to police, disclosed her bizarre desire to protect her face and hands.

"A broken body doesn't matter," one note explained. "Dropping seven stories is not as hard as life."

In the room which she had occupied for the past six months, police found a telegram, just received from Berkeley and signed "Taffy," which read:

"If you are dependent or in trouble we will help you."

Police are checking the telephone office to ascertain the name of the sender.

Order Seizure of State Board Books

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 18.—(UP)—All books and records pertaining to operations of the state board of equalization in liquor law enforcement in Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties were ordered seized today by the Donnell assembly. Interior auditing committee, which is investigating liquor enforcement in the state.

Simultaneously Assemblyman C. C. Cottrell, member of the committee, said W. E. Peters, former department of justice agent, and chief investigator for the committee, had been working secretly in the two counties.

MINNESOTA LEADER IS CRITICALLY ILL

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Gov. Floyd B. Olson, head of Minnesota's potent Farmer-Labor party and candidate for election to the United States senate, was in a critical condition at St. Mary's hospital here today of an inoperable cancer of the stomach.

The nature of Olson's long illness was learned by the United Press from an authoritative source.

For six months the Minnesota governor, recognized as one of the strongest voices in the Donnell assembly, has been battling against the illness which last night caused him to be brought to Mayo clinic on a stretcher, hastily installed in the aisle of a chartered airplane.

But as the date for Landon's departure drew near, it became obvious that the speeches he will deliver at West Middlesex and Buffalo were his last. Speeches scheduled to be completed shortly after his arrival for a vacation in the Rocky mountains are being revised and changed in important respects and it appeared unlikely Landon would get much time for fishing in Colorado before his tour starts.

The telephone wires between the McGraw ranch and the Republican national headquarters in Chicago have been kept busy and it was understood that the governor had been receiving the aid of special advisers in regard to last minute decisions to change parts of the addresses.

PROTEST CHANGE IN SINGLE TAX TITLE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Protesting that the second single tax amendment was "confusing, misleading and uncalculated," Jackson H. Ralston, Palo Alto proponent of the single tax, asked Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan today to submit the matter to the third district court of appeal for final action.

Ralston complained that the title prepared for appearance on the November ballot as proposition No. 1 differed radically from the original title prepared for him by Attorney General U. S. Webb, and that he did not become aware of the change until recently, as he was not notified that a second title had been written by Webb.

2 CRAFT WRECKED BY TROPICAL STORM

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Heavy seas battered two fishing vessels grounded in Magdalena bay and a third sent an SOS today as a twisting tropical windstorm lashed the coast of Baja California, Mexico.

The Panama, San Diego tuna boat, sent the SOS shortly before 11 a. m. after she had attempted to reach and assist the crippled Enterprise, aground and breaking up in the bay. No word has been received of the fate of 12 men aboard the Enterprise.

The Magellan, out of San Pedro with a crew of 12, also is aground in Magdalena bay 600 miles south of here, but reported she was in no immediate danger. The Panama carries 15 men.

Two coast guard cutters, the Calypso and Aurora, were racing to the wrecked ships from San Diego, but will not arrive on the scene until tomorrow. The tug Palomar was sent from San Pedro.

Traffic is Basis For Bridge Tolls

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Automobile tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge will be based upon the amount of traffic to be expected and the rate of interest on the bonds which were sold to finance the huge project, Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, said today.

"I am certain that the tolls will be no higher than they are now," Kelly said, "and I'm hoping they will be lower. If we can obtain a lower interest rate on the bonds, we may be able to trim the tolls."

AGREEMENT ON GOLD MINE TO PREVENT SALE

RENO, Nev., Aug. 18.—(UP)—A 50-year agreement holds members of George Austin's family from selling their interests in the Jumbo mine, most promising recent gold discovery in Nevada, in the face of fabulous offers for the claims they acquired on the $500 down payment, it was reported today.

Two offers of $250,000 in cash were made early this year for the property for which Austin paid $10,000 in small payments. When the ante rose to $1,000,000, however, Austin, his brother and two sons agreed not to sell any part of their interests for 50 years.

Congressman J. G. Scrugham of Nevada, noted mining engineer, returned last night from a visit to the property, which Austin is working with a ton and a half mill, bounding out by hand $500 a day not from the rich ore.

Scrugham said Austin readily admitted he had been offered $1,000,000 for a half interest in his claims, located approximately 36 miles northeast of Junco, little desert town near Minnerbrook.

"I asked him why he didn't sell out and retire," Scrugham related. "He told me if he did, he would have to pay the federal government $420,000 in taxes."

"That would leave me about half a million," Scrugham quoted Austin as telling him. "I've got two sons. A half million probably would make leaders out of them. No, it's better to hold the mine and work it ourselves. The boys will appreciate it more if they

NAME 130 MEN ON 'WHITE LIST'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(UP)—More than 100 Democratic and 30 Republican members of the house of representatives have been put on the Union party "white list" and will not be opposed in the November election, it was learned today.

Districts represented by these congressmen, who voted for the $3,000,000,000 Frazier-Lemke "inflationary" farm mortgage refinancing bill, virtually have been designated as "no-man's land" so far as invasion by a third party candidate is concerned.

Conversely, a "black list" numbers nearly 240 Democratic and Republican house members who voted against the Frazier-Lemke bill.

The Union party leaders, cooperating with the NUT under the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and with the Townsend old age pension movement, decided to use the vote on the Frazier-Lemke bill as basis for their decision as to which major party candidates should receive tacit if not formal backing.

The vote on the bill showed ap-

Retired Navy Man Injured in Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Rear Admiral William R. Shoemaker, retired, 73, was injured seriously when struck by an automobile last night, police reported. He was taken to the Letterman hospital, where it was reported he suffered concussion of the brain and other injuries.

JURY INDICTS TWO IN STATE RUM QUIZ

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 18.—(UP)—In the wake of the state liquor graft investigation two new indictments were voted by the Alameda county grand jury early today after a secret midnight session.

Named were Jack Agrella, Oakland bar operator, and a former Oakland board of equalization official, whose identity was withheld pending arrest.

The indictment charged extortion and solicitation of money to be used for a bribe. Agrella surrendered immediately and bail was set at $6000. Four witnesses told the grand jury of two payoff cases. Deputy District Attorney Ralph Hoyt revealed.

STAGE STAR ON LONDON FLIGHT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Harry Richman, radio and stage entertainer, and his pilot, Dick Merrill, took off in their $100,000 plane at 11:17 a. m. CST, today on a non-stop flight to New York. They plan a round trip from New York to London.

Richman and Merrill landed here at 9:59 a. m. CST, after leaving Albuquerque at 3:15 CST, and refueled. Richman dismissed the projected flight to London and back with the assertion:

"Nothing to it. Just a little hop."

Richman said the ship had a gasoline capacity of 1,600 gallons—enough for 600 miles.

"We'll just hop over to London, have a glass of champagne with our dinner and be back in New York in 40 hours," he said.

In the wings, tail surfaces and rear part of the fuselage of the low-winged all-metal Vultee plane have been placed 40,000 ping-pong balls designed to keep the craft aloft should it be forced down on the ocean. At New York, 15,000 more of the balls will be packed into the plane.

Richman said he had received an offer of $10,000 for the ping-pong balls if he would autograph each one when—and if—he returns from the flight.

"That's too much writing," he said, "I don't think I'll take it."

IDENTITY OF SLAIN GIRL ESTABLISHED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Authorities today sought to determine the cause of death following identification of a mutilated body discovered near Clarkville as that of Vivian Henderson, 27, of San Pedro.

Officers said they virtually had agreed on the Henderson identification after it was learned that a Hawaiian girl, known as Billie and designated by an Antioch tavern employee as the woman in question, was alive and working in Stockton. Police who searched through the woods in the vicinity of the quick on the Tahoe-Sacramento road where the body was found said the woman apparently was criminally attacked and then slain after being beaten severely.

the governors of Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota August 27 to discuss the drought and the progress of the government's relief program.

At a press conference at the summer White House he said he was starting work on a scratch pad in an effort to develop a schedule as to places and dates for the drought visit. He insisted that no invitations have been issued to the governors, including Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked regarding reaction to his speech at Chautauqua on foreign affairs and the recent announcement that conditions did not warrant a further increase in taxes.

Many telegrams, all favorable on both pronouncements, have been received, he said. Mr. Roosevelt added that the joint committee of senate and house would meet after Labor day to take up the tax situation.

He said the engagement list for the week was an exceedingly light one but explained James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, was expected in a few days for a discussion of campaign progress.

Whether he will break his drought trip with a cruise down the Mississippi was still doubtful, he said. Friends, however, felt that he would move southward along that route in order to survey flood control projects.

From the river county he is expected to turn eastward toward Charlotte, N. C., where on September 10 he will speak at the Green Pastures Seven States rally.

The next day, in Washington, he will open the international power congress.

Austin's younger son, Wilfred, is a student at the University of Nevada.

Schugham and mining associates reportedly have taken an option on nearby claims after learning Austin has taken out more than $30,000 in the last year in his crude, hand-operated mill, using only the richest of the high-grade ore.

Located in the awakening district of the slumbering hills, the mine is in the heart of the old-time Amos area, prospected for years. The Jumbo was discovered by G. C. Stages and Clyde Taylor, veteran prospectors, and sold to Austin April 10, 1935, for the $10,000 in installments.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—It appears to me that the Republicans will have to re-write their campaign scripts since the Administration has come out with the flat statement that there would be no new tax bills passed next Congress. Now if they would only eliminate the back taxes, everything would be perfect.

Naturally, you can't blame the Administration for doing an about face on the revenue question. The public's attitude had about reached the point where it was either no new taxes, or no New Deal.

Of course, coming right in the middle of a hot campaign, the promise sounds as obvious as the average toupee.

So, all this discussion about taxes almost fits Mark Twain's famous quip about the weather. . . . Everybody complains, but nobody ever seems to do much about it.

as to discourage betting entirely. But a vote for Lemke almost can be counted as a vote for Governor Landon in the political situation now prevailing. Such a situation arose because of Lemke, Father Coughlin—and Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the leader of the $200-a-month pension plan for the aged.

Dr. Townsend's conversion preceded the Coughlinites here by about three weeks. It was bitterly anti-Roosevelt. Both groups condemned Landon, as well, and Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate and Earl Browder, Communist. The Townsend anti-administration demonstration may have been more impressive than important. It promises to be far less effective than that of Father Coughlin.

But the disorganization, now poorly financed, Townsends claim 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 followers and the more zealous of them will vote against Mr. Roosevelt, possibly for Lemke, next November in protest against congressional investigation of their beloved leader.

Standing alone among the minority groups against Mr. Roosevelt, the Townsends probably would not amount to much. Reinforced by Father Coughlin's crusade they must be counted as a factor.

There is some dissension at the bottom, among the clubs of the Townsend organization. There has been much at the top. The doctor now is under subpoena to explain his financial set-up in answer to a suit for accounting filed by Rev. A. J. Wright, former Ohio manager of Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd.

Dr. Clinton Wunder, New York organizer; B. Kiefer, central states organizer; Vice President Gomer Smith, of Oklahoma, and some lesser figures have been expelled since last month's convention. Much of the trouble in OARP's leadership is traced to the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, former Louisiana preacher, who seeks to succeed Huey P. Long as leader in share-our-wealth.

The Doctor and Smith are partners now in public appearances and it is observed that most of the Townsend club lieutenants who opposed Smith's ascendancy have been deposed. Smith is an eloquent anti-Roosevelt speaker but it is suspected by many observers that he has no organized following whatsoever, and reaction to his addresses has been more than uncertain in many sections.

milk, and there is a shortage of food."

The government is eager for the besiegers will be released to move eastward on the San Sebastian area and south toward Madrid, thus stopping the rebel drive from the north.

Messages from the Guadarrama mountains north of Madrid indicated that the situation there was quiet.

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 18.—(UP)—The Spanish rebel warship, Espana, bombed Irun and San Sebastian today, killing many in San Sebastian.

It was the second day of shelling of the north coast cities. San Sebastian also was bombed from the air today.

Shells from the Espana destroyed many dwellings. One hit the maternity hospital and damaged it, but there were no casualties there.

The city was in dire straits and typhoid broke out because the water supply has been cut by the rebels.

The civil governor issued a proclamation saying that if the "vandalism" of the bombardment recurs, the war council will be convoked immediately to judge the rebel hostages held there, undoubtedly condemning many to death.

The civil governor announced that two important personages are among the hostages—count Romanones, former adviser to the king, and the monarchist leader Honorio Maura, rightist leader. It was inferred they would be the first to be shot.

The shell from the Espana which hit the maternity hospital landed on an unoccupied part of the building. The bombardment caused a panic among many mothers and infants elsewhere in the building.

Authorities mobilized a corps of workmen to construct defenses to protect the building from shell fragments.

The Loyalist Basque Nationalist party, until two days ago busy organizing its rear battle lines, yesterday launched two columns of militia in the mountains near San Sebastian.

In a successful action the militia, known as the Mendigo Italen, advanced 15 miles through the mountains, capturing the two small towns of Veldiana and Beaulonia.

proximately the house members who favor some form of currency expansion, with farm relief attached. In addition, sponsors of the bill received full support from the Townsend pension bloc, which was unable to force a clear cut vote in congress on the $200-a-month pension issue.

The Reverend Coughlin gave the Frazier-Lemke bill strong support. The controversial measure was sponsored by Rep. William Lemke, presidential nominee of the Union party. The bill, defeated by a house vote of 235 to 142, with 51 members not voting, provided for issuance of new money if necessary to refinance all farm mortgages by the government at a 3 per cent interest-amortization rate.

Voting for the bill in the house last May were 104 Democrats, 27 Republicans, 3 Farmer Laborites and seven Progressives. A few of this group have suffered primary defeat.

question of invasion of the Philippines "absolutely does not exist."

Regarding American naval policy in the Far East delegates agreed that while the United States still asserts and endeavors to maintain by other means the open door policy in China, there is less and less tendency to enforce that policy by use of the navy.

While the United States is now building a large navy, it was agreed that this was not so much for naval warfare but for the purpose of rendering effective through diplomatic action America's three established foreign policies, which were given as follows:

WPA CHIEF IN RUMOR DENIAL

freely and promiscuously published yesterday without investigation and confirmation, I desire to say that these charges are not being made by the true representatives of the Young Democratic Voters of Orange County," Mulherson declared in his statement. "Such charges are manifestly unjust, unreasonable, untrue, and some of them only half-truths not supported by any true facts. They are being promoted, circulated and made through a publicity seeking, self-styled, pseudo Democratic leader (since January, 1936) by two or three disgruntled former employees of the Works Progress Administration who were discharged because of their inefficiency, unreliability and neglect of duties assigned to them as such employees."

WPA records show that Robert Ramsey was discharged as camp superintendent of the Orange camp on May 9 of this year; Ray La Fonte, president of the Anaheim Young Democrat club, was discharged from his office as time keeper on May 22; Russell E. Palmgren, was dismissed from his office as paymaster on May 10.

"Ever since their discharge," Mulherson continued in his statement, "they have made open threats that they were 'out to get Dan Mulherson and the entire WPA organization in Orange county'."

"Were it not for the fact that the public does not know the source of the so-called charges, the alleged accusations printed would be ignored entirely."

"It is true that some political activity has at times crept in the organization through the political relations of some of its employees. However, when this has been brought to my attention, in every instance, the perpetrator of it has been discharged or permitted to resign. I have tried fairly and tearfully to administer WPA work in Orange county in the same spirit and with the same purpose which was contemplated by the President and congress.

"If every disgruntled, discharged employee would be received with open arms by the press of Orange county and his grievance published without investigation or confirmation, the efficiency which I have tried to build in the organization and the morale of same is very likely to be destroyed or very seriously impaired."

Not only did the attack upon Mulherson result in counter charges by the W.P.A. official, but also brought a statement from Curtis Barrow, president of the Santa Ana Young Democrat club.

"Clem was not speaking for the Santa Ana club," said Barrow. "He was speaking from his own individual standpoint. I don't know anything of the matters he charged, and have not been in touch with Clem. All I know is what I read in the paper."

JOE SCOTT TO BE SPEAKER AT G.O.P. BARBECUE

Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney and political leader, who nominated Herbert Hoover for president, will be the principal speaker at the Republican barbecue and rally at Orange County park next Saturday.

Announcement that Scott had been obtained as the speaker was made today by Howard Irwin, chairman of the county Republican Central committee.

According to Irwin 250 tickets at $5 each have been sold to date and he is expecting a gathering of at least 600 persons for the barbecue Saturday which will be served at 1 o'clock.

Tickets for the barbecue may be obtained in Santa Ana from Franklin G. West and from members of the Orange County Republican assembly and the county central committee.

BURGLARS ARE ACTIVE IN S.A. DURING NIGHT

Burglars and petty thieves continued active in Santa Ana today, as city police continued just as active upon investigations which may lead toward arrests.

Miss Opal Hughes, 427 North Sycamore, said she was approached at her beauty parlor headquarters here by a man who said he wished to sell her some advertising cards, yesterday afternoon. She left him a moment, to go to the rear of the office and when she returned, found he and her purse, both, were gone.

The purse, patent leather, $24 inches valued at $4, contained $3 in currency, some change, a driver's license and $3 worth of cosmetics.

Someone who tore away a screen at the rear of the Main Street cafeteria Sunday night, entered the place and stole $136.86 in cash and checks. The burglar, who apparently had secured the safe combination, took $10 in cash and two silver, from the cash register. The checks were for $42.01 to Horace Sears of the Irvine company, and $7.85 to Miss Lillian Johnson, Paxton Nailing Machine company. The burglar unlocked and left the place by a rear door, according to Manager-Owper Pat Kelley.

Officers Harry Fink, Charles Wolford and Hunter Leach were conducting an investigation today.

A burglar who removed the putty from a window at the James A. Bramley print shop, 111 East Third some time prior to yesterday morning, unlocked the window, crawled in and ransacked the shop but obtained only a $1 fountain pen. Officers said the job looked like one performed by a youth.

Phillip Lutz, of 1712 Valencia, Santa Ana tailor at 217 West Fourth, told City Police Desk sergeant Frank Lutz, of 1720 Valencia, his neighbor, but not his relative, that a thief tried to enter the building but failed some time Sunday night, or Monday morning. C. D. Baldwin, 209 1-2 West Fourth reported he saw the man, a Mexican, on the roof of the tailoring establishment, trying to enter through a transom, flashed a light in his face and demanded to know what he was doing there. The Mexican, Baldwin said, spoke good English and explained, "I have just arrived in Santa Ana and am looking for my 13-year-old brother who tried to run away." Baldwin said the two searched the roof but the thief was not present. Later, Phillip Lutz found efforts to remove panels from a rear door had failed and the transom had been tampered with.

As you find yourself more and more in harmony with Him and with His gracious purpose, He will guide you into being and doing that which will bring courage and joy and confidence and peace to those whose hearts are bruised as sorely as is your own.

"His Brother's Wife," starring Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck opened today at the Fox West Coast theater. In addition to the Stanwyck picture a second feature "Final Hour" with Ralph Bellamy and Marguerite Churchill in the starring roles also will be shown. A cartoon and a Fox news reel complete the program.

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck are said to be at their best in "His Brother's Wife" which has to do with the son of a long line of prominent physicians who goes to the jungles of South America to try and find a cure for a deadly disease. During his absence his brother marries his sweetheart. The picture ends happily for all and is one of those films that will be appreciated by the entire family.

Because of his deafness, Beethoven never heard a single note of his greatest work, the Ninth Symphony.

"Nor is the government making any attempt to pay for the land, having dropped the sham of giving indemnity in bonds. The common people are so taken with the idea of owning their own land that at the President's suggestion they have organized agrarian militia in many places to prevent the landed gentry from making any attempt to turn the tables."

JEROME EXPLAINS RELIEF SET-UPS ADMINISTERED BY STATE AND NOT SUPERVISORS

The Orange county supervisors have nothing to do with the size of family relief budgets or security allowances administered under state or federal laws, it was pointed out today in a statement by Supervisor W. C. Jerome, of Santa Ana, who said that there seems to be a widespread misunderstanding of the situation by the general public.

The supervisor's statement was made as County Welfare Director Byron V. Curry today placed a large group of Orange county aged upon the welfare rolls, as recipients of allowances under the new state old-age security law.

These, said Jerome, will be carried on county rolls and the county will contribute toward their allowances, but the county supervisors have nothing to say about the amounts they shall receive, which are determined by the state.

"I find," he said, "many wrong ideas in circulation, regarding the various relief set-ups, such as the old-age, the widow and orphan aid, the blind, the crippled, and those unfortunate unemployed who have never been taken into the federal government relief program."

"All of these relief set-ups are handled under the laws of the state, our welfare department merely being used as an instrument of administration."

"Many people believe the supervisors have something to do with the amounts allowed. That is not the case. We supervisors would not be in position to know the needs of a family, and we would not attempt to say what should be allowed."

"Our Orange county board has attempted to live up to its obligations as imposed by the state or federal relief laws. That is all."

Because of his deafness, Beethoven never heard a single note of his greatest work, the Ninth Symphony.

"Nor is the government making any attempt to pay for the land, having dropped the sham of giving indemnity in bonds. The common people are so taken with the idea of owning their own land that at the President's suggestion they have organized agrarian militia in many places to prevent the landed gentry from making any attempt to turn the tables."

MEXICO FARMS ARE BECOMING MUCH SMALLER

BERKELEY, Cal., (UP)—From a country of huge estates, sometimes running into a million acres and investing the owner with feudal powers, Mexico is rapidly becoming a country of small farm owners, according to Dr. Herbert I. Priestly, professor of Mexican history at the University of California.

Dr. Priestly has returned from a detailed study in Mexico of the development of the land and farming movement there.

"The subdivision of large estates started under Presidents Carranza and Obregon," Priestly says, "but languished under the rule of subsequent presidents until Cardenas took the helm. Since then, subdivision has been rapid. Small farms, to common farmers, have been extended into states which were not touched by his predecessors and renewed in others, such as Colima."

"Nor is the government making any attempt to pay for the land, having dropped the sham of giving indemnity in bonds. The common people are so taken with the idea of owning their own land that at the President's suggestion they have organized agrarian militia in many places to prevent the landed gentry from making any attempt to turn the tables."

SON OF COUNTY PIONEER DIES IN GLENDALE

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at Glendale for the first stage coach that crossed the country to the west coast. He operated a hotel at Anaheim.

Funeral rites will be conducted in the W. A. Brown chapel, after which the body will be forwarded to Redlands for interment in Redlands cemetery.

Mitchell is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. R. M. Scruggs, of Chelton, China; his mother, Mrs. Nevel H. Mitchell of Redlands; and one sister, Mrs. Don Little, also of Redlands.

Some species of giraffes have three horns, while others have two.

Priestly, has been increasing enmity on the part of the wealthy conservatives. This, he points out, puts President Cardenas in a difficult position, for despite his popularity with farmers and laborers, he is dependent on the support of the army, some of whose most influential generals are large land owners.

"However," says Dr. Priestly, "the army, better educated and more honest than ever before, and possessed of a new professional spirit which marks a distinct break with the past, will remain loyal. Thus, by barring any widespread discontent, the Cardenas government should remain in the saddle until the expiration of its term in 1940."

The result, according to Dr.

ANAHEIM GIRL IS WINNER OF STATE LEGION CONTEST

Mary Kathryn Pipp, student at Marywood Central Catholic High school in Anaheim, won first place in the state finals in the American Legion auxiliary contest on "Americanism," it was learned today.

Miss Pipp placed first in the city and district contest and then submitted an essay on "Americanism" in the state competition. The awards have included cash, a framed copy of "The American Creed" and a parchment citation.

A senior student at Marywood, Miss Pipp is only 14 years old.

She has been successful in several other contests and has won a scholarship at St. Mary's of the Woods in Indiana, where she will continue her education.

Atlantans Get New U. S. Homes at Low Rents

First of 49 federal low-cost housing groups to be occupied by tenants, Techwood Homes, in Atlanta, Ga., is shown in the upper airview, trim new brick apartment buildings replacing 11 blocks of city slums. Neat lawns flank each structure, garden spots are available for renters, and recreation space is provided. Below left is shown one of the efficiency kitchens, electrically equipped, and at right is the central laundry for one of the apartment buildings, with every convenience. Rentals start at $16.40 a month for a three-room apartment, as little as hundreds of Atlanta families pay for sub-standard dwellings.

ONTARIO SAID TO BE FAVORED AS PRISON SITE

Reports from reliable sources, today, placed the site for the new $400,000 state prison to be built in Southern California, in Mira Loma, formerly known as Wineville. The site for the prison is approximately 11 miles southeast of Ontario.

The new prison, for which money was appropriated by the last legislature, is intended for first offenders and will be operated along reformatory lines.

An agricultural institution is planned by the state prison board. A legislative committee has been studying sites for the proposed prison for many months and the reports said that the choice now lay between Mira Loma site and a site in San Diego county. Orange county has been definitely abandoned.

Coincident with reports from Los Angeles that the Mira Loma site was favored came word from ranchers in that vicinity that they would oppose building of the institution in their neighborhood.

The prison board in its long study of the proposed site, heretofore has eliminated all consideration of tracts where strenuous opposition developed.

Complaining that four boys were trying to pick a quarrel last night and threatened to toss a rock through a window at his place of business, a fourth street jeweler asked city police to learn the owner of an automobile having license 8-D-6481. Mrs. Harry Danhoff, 2720 East Broadway, Long Beach, reported to city police last night that her black and white female fox terrier, about seven or eight years old, was lost from her car sometime, somewhere, here, yesterday. She offered a reward for the dog's return. The dog carried a Boulder City, Nevada, license on her collar.

Sometime Saturday evening, a motorist backing his car from the curb on Broadway between First and Second, tore the bumper from a car being driven by Lawrence Lane, 214 East Camille, Lane reported to city police last night, asking ownership of the car which he said had license number 8-N-4355. AUTO DEALERS PLAN BUREAU FOR APPRAISAL

In an effort to bring an end to throat cutting among Orange county automobile dealers, the Orange County Dealers' association at a meeting yesterday noon took active steps toward the establishment of a central appraisal bureau. The idea, according to Claude Knox, president of the association, is to make it possible to establish uniform appraisals on cars to be traded in for new machines.

"Under the existing set up," Knox explained, "a man may take his car to 10 different dealers in the county and get 10 different appraisals. We propose to establish a bureau here, where appraisals on cars will be recorded.

"In other words, if a man takes his car into a dealer for the purpose of trading it in on a new car, that dealer will inspect the used car and make an estimate as to its worth. After he has made the appraisal, he will inform the bureau as to the amount he is willing to allow the owner on a trade in. When the owner goes to another dealer for the purpose of making a trade, that dealer will phone the bureau, and will be informed as to the original appraisal amount. In this way, established dealers will be protected.

"If dealers feel that the original appraisal is too low, the bureau will send two disinterested appraisers to the owner, for the purpose of setting a new value on the car. In this way the car owner as well as the dealer is protected.

The system has worked successfully in San Diego, Knox said, and for the past week, Orange county dealers have been investigating the set up there. Next week, officials of the San Diego bureau will be present at a meeting of Orange county dealers for the purpose of answering questions.

FARM BUREAU VALUATION OF WILL DISCUSS SANTA ANA IS YEAR'S PLANS $20,853.085

Plans and a tentative program for the coming year will be discussed this week and next at a series of meetings of Orange county farm bureau members and officers. The sessions are to be held in connection with the policy of the farm bureau to "take inventory" every August—check over its organization plans and consider any changes which may be brought up through the various units of the organization.

The first of the series of meetings will be held Friday, Aug. 21, at the home of Roland Flaherty, secretary of the farm bureau. The nine presidents of the farm centers and their wives have been invited to attend the forum, which is called for 7:30 a. m. Problems and methods of handling meetings, and tentative subjects to be discussed at farm center meetings will be considered.

At noon, Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Flaherty will be hosts to officers of the units in the home department at a lawn luncheon at the Flaherty home, 702 South Broadway. Representatives from the units in Anaheim, Poothill, Tustin, Garden Grove and West Orange farm centers are expected to attend.

Monday at 7:30 p. m., chairman of the membership committees of the nine farm centers will meet at the Flaherty home. Plans for a membership campaign to be launched in the near future will be discussed.

At 9 a. m., Thursday, Aug. 27, the farm bureau ways and means committee will meet in the farm bureau offices on North Main street. Recommendations and suggestions made in the three previous meetings will be considered, and definite plans for the coming year worked out.

Report of County Auditor W. T. Lambert on the Santa Ana 1935-37 property valuation, submitted to city council last night, was referred to City Auditor Lloyd Banks for consideration and recommendation. Correct figures on the city's valuation are necessary in working out its financial program for the 1936-37 fiscal year. The 1935-36 valuation was less.

Lambert's valuation report shows: Common property, real estate, $9,188,420; improvements, $9,827,275; trees, $440,370; secured personal property, $1,395,405; unsecured money, $1615—total, $20,853.085.

In addition, unsecured property totals $845,835 making total common property valuation, $21,705,560, and unsecured money, $840,560. Proposed valuation of public utilities property is, real estate, $30,220; improvements, $578,120; personal property, $1,404,030; solvent credits, $1,352,955; stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages, $17,655—grand total including intangibles, $25,388,550.

The public utilities roll probably will be turned over to Lambert by the state board of equalization at once, when exact figures can be revealed. It was pointed out.

The total 1935-36 valuation was $23,934,290, divided as follows: common property, $21,599,045; public utilities, $2,335,245.

Set for Action in Gigantic U. S. War Game

This was a scene "somewhere near Camp Custer, Mich." as the zero hour in U. S. war games brought a squadron of nearly 80 "enemy" war planes roaring down in power dives on a concentration of regular army troops and national guardsmen. Men above are swinging an electrically controlled anti-aircraft gun into action. Small groups to right and left are range-finding and communications details. Foreign military attaches are observing the maneuvers, which involve all branches of the army service.

CHURCH CHOIRS COMBINE FOR BIG FESTIVAL

The combined choirs of the downtown churches will present a music festival, under the auspices of the Ministerial Union, next Sunday evening, in the First Methodist church, according to announcement made today by the Rev. E. A. Kelly, president of the Ministerial association.

This will be the first time that all of the choirs have been together for a program of this type and from the success of the rehearsals, the program will be one of the finest ever presented in Orange county, it is said.

The chorus will have close to 100 voices, which include some of the finest singers of Santa Ana. The program will start promptly at 7:30 p. m. and will include two groups by the choir-duets, solos, instrumental numbers and organ selections.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. Charles Nalle of the Baptist church, Halstead McCormick of the First Methodist church and the Episcopal church, George Watson of the Evangelical church, Whitford Hall of the First Presbyterian church, Harry Warren of the United Presbyterian church and Frank S. Pierce of the First Christian church.

The program was originally scheduled for the First Baptist church, but since rehearsals started and the enthusiasm has increased the choir from 50 to 100 voices, the committee decided to hold the program in the First Methodist church to give better facilities for the chorus and for the large attendance, which the program of this nature is expected to attract.

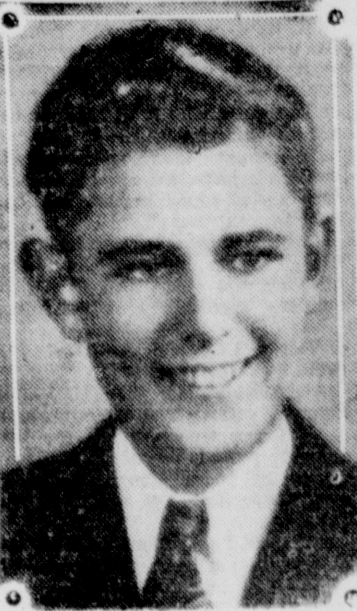

The two final rehearsals are to be held tonight at 7:30 sharp in the First Methodist church and again Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Whitford Hall, who is directing the 100-voice chorus, asks that all singers who intend to take part in the Sunday program to be in their places and ready to rehearse at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Palmer, who said he is unable to do manual labor because of a physical handicap, will grow 90 per cent of what he retails, on his own place, he estimated. His wares will be displayed in lug boxes upon three tables. He said he later expects to establish a neat building at the location.

CHAIN STORE TOPIC BEFORE FORUM TONIGHT

Relative merits and demerits of the chain store question will be the subject of discussion tonight at the Forum for Political and Economic Education to be held, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, in the Santa Ana junior college building, 917 North Main street.

Although the discussion is not to be carried on in actual debate form there will be speakers present to give arguments pro and con concerning the chain store situation. The chain stores will be represented by a member of the Los Angeles Speakers' Bureau who will give the advantages of having chain stores.

Opposing the Los Angeles speaker will be a Santa Ana speaker whose identity will not be disclosed until the Forum meets tonight. Each speaker will be given 20 minutes to advance his side of the argument and an additional six minutes will be granted in which he will attempt to tear down his opponent's points. Following the discussion the audience will be free to question both men.

According to Dr. M. W. Hollingsworth, member of the executive committee which makes arrangements for the Forum programs, tonight's talks are staged as a preliminary to next Tuesday's meeting when the pros and cons of the chain store tax question will be outlined.

The third spot in seasonal percentages means a generous share of the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach series receipts and Billy Feistner's men figure they are "in" if they topple the Stars.

Officials Should Keep Eye Peeled On Illogical Sharkey-Louis Fight

(Sport editor's note: This is the last of three articles on the Sharkey-Louis fight at Yankee stadium tonight.)

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

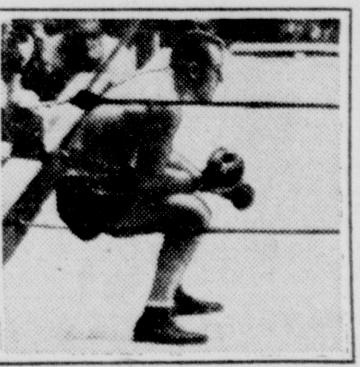

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Having permitted the venerable Jack Sharkey to come back for no apparent reason, the Boxing Commission should keep an eye on the former champion's illogical match with Joe Louis tonight.

The purpose of the 10-round contest is to rebuild Louis, and Sharkey has been mixed up in so many unsatisfactory affairs of the ring that every angle before and during the bout should be carefully scrutinized.

If Louis can fight half as well as he was supposed to be able to before Max Schmeling dipped the chocolate wonder boy in resin, he should belt out Sharkey in three or four rounds. However, the young Negro has looked so bad in workouts that trained observers would not be surprised at anything.

Here we find the strange spectacle of a 34-year-old Sharkey who has not had a major battle since 1923, and who then was knocked out by Primo Carnera's invisible uppercut and subsequently beaten by King Levinsky and Tommy Loughran, being conceded by many a good chance of spilling a Louis who only two months ago was being compared with immortals of the heavyweight division.

Nothing that Sharkey has done has brought this condition about. The former sailor's comeback to date consists of a knockout of Unknown Winston, which he had to perform twice to convince Massachusetts officials that it was on the level; a defeat and only a draw in a return match with the light-hitting Tony Shucro, and a decision over Phil Brubaker, a green youngster.

Louis' performances in training at Pompton Lakes alone are responsible for the shift to Sharkey.

Some believe that Schmeling knocked all the fight out of the Dutch Angel and left him gun shy, stand as Sharkey's return to the wars. The gob never was in boxing for anything more than he could get out of it in a financial way. He has all the money he will ever need.

After he laid down and played dead at the feet of Carnera, Sharkey remarked that he had no intention of remaining on the firing line to be marked up. He always was supposed to have a hypnotic stare for opponents across the inclosure, but I always had an idea that he was more concerned in counting the house.

Taking Sharkey at his word, following the Carnera thing, one can only suspect that the old bluejacket will take care of himself first and the customers second if the going gets too rough.

If Louis loses to Sharkey, he will go down in the books as the most overrated heavyweight that ever lived.

Smoky Joe may be the victim of having been rushed along too quickly and built too highly at that. Louis fooled the canny Jack Blackburn as well as himself. He commenced to believe all that was being said about him. It went to his head.

Naturally, the Schmeling disaster knocked some common sense into his head. The question is whether it knocked too much fighting sense out of it.

CANTOR TO FLY EAST OR TALK WITH OWENS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Eddie Cantor said today he received a second cable from London stating that his $40,000 offer for Jesse Owens to turn professional "looks very favorable" to the famous Negro athlete and his coach, Larry Snyder.

"I must look good or they wouldn't have asked me to travel 3000 miles clear across the country, to see them," Cantor said.

Cantor wants to manage Owens for 10 weeks, placing the Olympic hero on the stage and in a cross-country speaking tour of colleges.

OWENS BLASTS A.A.U. SAILS TOMORROW

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Jesse Owens sails from Southampton aboard the Queen Mary for home tomorrow and he doesn't care "a couple of hoots" about his imminent suspension by the American A.A.U.

"I guess I might as well consider myself suspended," the Negro star of the Olympics said, "because I'm not going to participate in the track meet scheduled in Sweden starting Wednesday."

Owens had agreed to compete at Stockholm, according to A.A.U. officials. When he fails to appear there at starting time, suspension will follow automatically.

"I'm going home," Owens said, "because I'm tired and I want to see my wife. It's been exactly two months and three weeks since I saw her."

He pointed out that too much running makes him go stale, as last year when Eugene Paddock beat him in the A.A.U. championships, and "I certainly don't want that to happen again." Jesse said his "conscience is clear" and that A.A.U. officials are being "very unfair to me."

Owens saw "Blackbirds of 1936" with an all-Negro cast at the Gaiety theater last night but it didn't little to cheer him up. Today he went sightseeing with his coach, Larry Snyder, and leaves for Southampton early Wednesday. On arrival in New York they will leave immediately for Jesse's home in Columbus.

BURT KIDD OFF FOR OLE MISS

An "added starter" in the person of Burt Kidd, Fullerton jockey's great kicker and passer, left for the University of Mississippi today in company with Ray and Clarence Hapes, Walt Hickman and Dick Moore, all former Santa Ana jockey football players.

The quintet left by bus for Oxford, Miss., at 12:36 p. m.

Like Hickman and Moore, Kidd will enter Ole Miss as a freshman. The Hapes brothers were members of last year's varsity. Ray being the country's No. 1 scorer for major colleges.

Kidd, a left-footed kicker and left-handed passer, was Fullerton's outstanding back in '35. Probably the best blocker on the coast, his tremendous spirals often sailed 70 to 75 yards in the air, and his general average was around 60.

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT ON NEW RING BILL

Planning a white vs. black boxing card at the Orange County Athletic club Thursday night, Promoter Bob Singleton today announced plans for a double main event.

Half of the double event will see "Bud" McCarter, Orange heavyweight, facing dusky Jim Davis, the other half matches Ray ("Kayo") Vargas, the Atwood Assassin, with another clever black lad, John Wilks.

Pair of Bucks Killed by S. A. Hunters

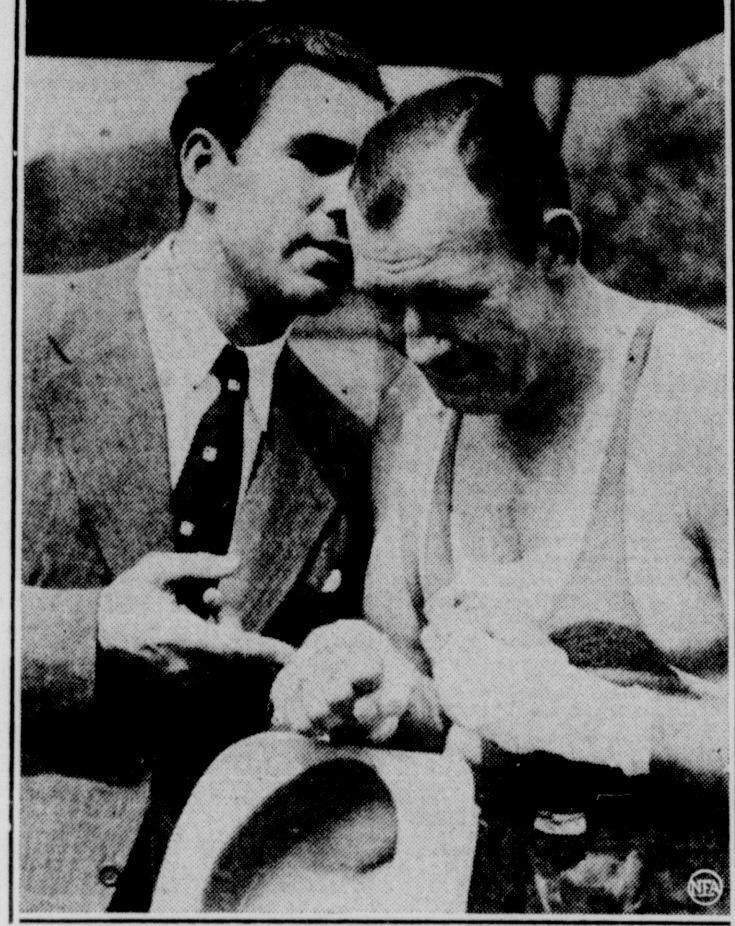

Eight hours after the opening of the deer season, five Santa Anas were on their way home with a 4-point blacktail which dressed 119 pounds and a Pacific tipping the scales at 150 pounds.

The party was composed of Don Young, Calvin Shores, Guy Purinton, Charles Cathcart and Francis Edmunds.

Cleghorn mountain, northwest of the Los Angeles playground, was chosen by the Santa Anas for the scene of their expedition and they report sighting 35 deer, most of which were illegal. The party left here Saturday afternoon and stayed all night atop the mountain, taking advantage of the early dawn to bag their game.

'Keep Your Right Busy'

Sharkey Lends An Ear to Louis' Conqueror

Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey, both ex-heavyweight champions, look to be in a very private conference, but that pointing finger gives it all away. Of course, Max, who knocked out Joe Louis, is telling Jack: "Just keep throwing that right hand at Joe. That's how I knocked him out."

JOE'S GROCERY NEAR PENNANT

BY MARVIN SPICER

It seemed certain today that the youthful fire and dash of Joe's Grocery kid team cannot be quenched, following its second successive victory, 5-3, over the Commercial National bank in the Municipal Bowl last night.

Although the snappy weather was more suitable for football than softball there was nothing cool about the imbroglio which gave the Grocers a two-game bulge in the playoff series, leaving them but a single victory needed to clinch the Santa Ana City league championship.

Up to the seventh inning Anson (Bob) Mott, husky southpaw yielded the Bankers but a single scratch hit. The torrid seventh both clubs milled about, neither sacker, leading off with a Texas league double over short. On Harold Yonke's infield out, Heard won on to third. Then Mott cut loose with a wild pitch to score Heard. Mitchell walked but was forced by Rod Smiley. Boyle's double sent Smiley to third. Then the fireworks began.

Umpire Charles Hemphill Pitcher Merle Youel hit a slow bouncer to Mott and the pitcher threw home in an attempt to nip Smiley who was steaming in from third. Getting the ball too late, Catcher Merle Hapes didn't attempt to touch Smiley. However, Umpire Emory Lambert, thinking the bases were loaded and it was a forced play, called Smiley out. During the excitement Hapes dropped the ball and Boyle scored.

The Smiley decision was like a match that set off an explosion. As Smiley made the third out Boyle's run shouldn't count. Players of both clubs milled about Lambert and Harvey Hemphill, Commercial's peppery shortstop, was expelled from the game. Official Scorer Tom Moore probably averted a riot when he leaped out of the press box and explained to Lambert that there were only two men on base at the time of the questionable decision. Peace once again restored, play was resumed and Charley Andres was thrown out to retire the side.

Joe's Grocery came through to score two in the second and one each in the third, sixth and seventh. A dropped fly in left field by Andres put Mott on base in the second and Pete Partida herded him in with a well-kissed homer to right-center.

Following successive singles by Levens and Hapes in the third, Youel suffered a streak of wildness. The veteran Commercial pitcher walked Partida to load the bases and then issued a pass to Ortega to force in a run.

Another error gave the Grocers

WEST INDS HERE AT THE LOCAL SPORTS

Ray Todd is luckier in love than football. The big Orangeman who subbed for Bobby Grayson at Stanford three years, playing 55 minutes of the Cal game in '34 when Grayson got hurt, will be married one of these fine days to Miss Dora Tedford of Santa Ana.

Harold Pangle is in Michigan City with the Chicago Cardinals, getting in shape for the National Pro league. He went east with Al Nichelini, the big St. Mary's back who joins the Cards this term.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Musick is awaiting orders from the Boston Redskins, leaves in a week or so.

Al Bushman, former Orange and Anaheim pitcher, is now with Highgrove in the Central league. That's the "Orange County league" to the inland American Night league. Covina has recalled Lionel (Missionary) Brown from the San Joaquin to help Earl Morrill in the American division playoff series against San Bernardino.

When Al Reboin begins coaching at Huntington Beach his next month he'll reside in nearby Milway City. Reboin's jockey will be the first opponent of those Trojan frosh this fall. Sept. 26 is the date. Santa Ana is not on the Trobade schedule but hopes to regain its accustomed spot in '37.

Big Game Hunter George Briggs had to spend five crestfallen days in little Wrangle, Alaska, when the boat that carried him from Seattle limped into port too late to make connections with the ship that was to carry him still further into the land of moose and caribou.

Fred (Porky) Bell, ex-Draft football player who last winter turned boxer at the Orange County Athletic club, has decided to have another fling at the fistic game. Although he has not been in actual training since spring, Bell scales but 162, less than 10 pounds over his fighting weight.

Two successive short-time knockouts showed that Bell had a stiff punch. But his inexperience was noticeable in his next start when Bill Montgomery, clever colored Los Angeles battler, decided him.

Bell intends to launch his "comeback" about the first of October.

A publication known as "Orange County League and the National" will make its appearance among fans. According to the author, Walt Collins, secretary of the Orange County Night league, the publication will cover the Santa Ana city leagues, both boys and girls, the county league and the National league.

All officials of the above leagues will be listed as well as all managers and players.

Club standings, individual batting averages and playoff results are to be covered as well as other data. By saying this attractive publication, fans will have a ready reference at their fingertips at all times. Collins does not expect to commercialize the booklet, seeks only to break even.

BOMBER COMES IN AT 199 TO SHARKEY'S 197

(Radio KJH will broadcast the Louis-Sharkey heavy-weight scrap from New York tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock, Orange county time.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Joe Louis held a slight weight advantage over Jack Sharkey when they were examined today for their 10-round heavyweight bout tonight at Yankee stadium.

Louis scaled 199 3-4 against 197 1-4 for Sharkey, the former heavyweight titleholder.

Dr. William Walker, the state athletic commission's physician, applied his stethoscope to Sharkey's chest, the "Ancient Mariner," said:

"Looks like you're the most nervous man in the building, Doc."

Sharkey wore a two-day growth of black beard and didn't say much. As always, Jack stared at everyone with his "hypnotic" eye. Louis at behind the scales Sharkey checked in.

Fighters Stare At Each Other Neither fighter spoke to the other. They merely stared.

When Walker had finished his examination he said, "I'll see you tonight at the ring, Jack."

"I'm glad to hear that," Sharkey said, "because it would be a helluva note if you didn't."

When Louis was informed Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock was suffering an injured hand, he said, "I'm sorry. But it looks better for me because I might get to meet Schmeling. I wish I was fighting Max tonight."

Dr. Charles Bies, who examined Louis' heart, said:

"With that heart you ought to live to be a million years old."

After the ceremonies, Sharkey departed, turning around and saying to Louis: "Good luck."

"Thank you," Louis replied. The Detroit Negro was quiet throughout.

BRADDOCK ON SHELF NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Joe Gould, manager of Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock, today told the New York state boxing commission his fighter could not go through with his scheduled September bout with Max Schmeling because of an injured left hand.

Surprisingly enough, the bout is proving one of the year's biggest betting fights. Considerable Louis money has lengthened the odds to 3-1 on the Brown Bomber, with a possibility that they may go even higher before the opening goes at 10 p. m. There are plenty of bettors willing to take the short end on Sharkey.

A crowd of 40,000 or more will pay upwards of $200,000 to see the fight. Two months ago Sharkey would have had trouble getting a job as sparring partner for the Brown Bomber. Now Sharkey talks about fighting for

COLLAPSE OF GOMEZ WORRIES MCCARTHY

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Whatever hopes Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees had that Vernon (Lefty) Gomez would regain his old form before world series time rolls around were pretty well shattered today.

Gomez was batted out of the box in the first inning yesterday by Washington. It was his eighth forced abdication in nine starts since June 19. That was the last date on which "Lefty" started and finished a game and won it, beating the Detroit Tigers, 5-2. He got credit for his eighth and last victory against the Senators July 4, but had to be relieved by Pat Malone in the ninth.

No satisfactory explanation has been given for the southpaw's slump. Loss of confidence seems unlikely in a pitcher with a background of 21, 24, 16, 26 and 12 victories in the successive years 1929-35. Gomez is only 25 and his arm gives him no trouble. McCarthy has used him sparingly.

The Senators batted around against Gomez in the opening frame yesterday, reaching him for four singles, a double, a walk and four of their seven runs. They won, 7-5. The New Yorkers held their 111-5 game lead, since sec-

CANTONWINE TO GET LOPEZ GO?

By EDDIE WEST

Not Nick Lutz but that swaggering, chest-inflating master of mat villainy, "Hangman" Howard Cantonwine, is to get the shot at the California champion, Vincent Lopez, at the Orange County Athletic club next Monday night.

Lopez has promised to appear, regardless of the outcome of his "world's titular match" at Wrigley field tomorrow night with Dave Levin. Last night Cantonwine qualified as his opponent here after one of those matches that the trade calls an upset.

The Santa Ana headliner at the highway arena week after week, was in line for the match until something happened to the script. Cantonwine—not Lutz—got the third and deciding fall. Afterward Promoter Sam Sampson shrugged and said: "Lutz has been losing; Cantonwine now is the logical opponent for Lopez."

Verdict Fantastic

Just as was the case the week before when Cantonwine first beat Lutz, Referee Dick Rutherford rendered a fantastic verdict.

They were even—one all apiece—and Nick had a punishing right hold that looked like a payoff. Suddenly Cantonwine reached up, snatched Lutz's throat and pinned his shoulders while Rutherford hastily counted "one-two-three." The referee tapped Cantonwine on the shoulder but nothing happened, and the man continued to grapple.

Then Cantonwine repeated the procedure and so did Rutherford. This time the "Hangman" caught the cue and Rutherford hoisted his hand. A lip-reader could have told for sure but Lutz's pursed mouth seemed to say something like this: "Well for ---"

McArthur Loses on Foul

Rematched for another dose of murder and manslaughter, Bad Boys Jack McArthur and George Kondelis took turns biting each other and gouging eyes. Kondelis won on a foul eventually. The outstanding parts of the match were that they went to the mat only twice in 21 minutes, and that McArthur twice chewed Referee Rutherford's hand instead of Kondelis'. The crowd howled with delight.

Juan Olasquival-Pico disposed of "Count" Pulaski in 12:49. Pulaski, villain of the piece, wore a look of outraged righteousness each time he was caught playing "dirty," and looked from referee to crowd in mute appeal. It was very touching.

Bob Coleman defeated Bill Grubbs in the opener, "softening" his prey with a series of flying tackles. Although comparatively small, the quarrelsome Grubbs gave the referee more trouble than the big fellow. He was continually mixing with the rusty-knobbed arbiter.

BALL INJURES PUCKSTER

Frank Boucher, center of the New York Rangers' National Hockey league squad, broke a bone in his right ankle in playing baseball here. The injury, received in sliding into a base, is expected to be fully healed by the time the ice season rolls around.

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Bill Melhorn contends that watering systems practically have ruined golf in America for the scientific player. The renowned Texas professional says Gene Sarazen and other foremost stars will tell you the same thing.

"Give me a hard baked cuppy fairway any time in place of an artificially watered surface where the ball snugles down in thick nap turf," asserts Melhorn.

"Watering breeds clover. That juicy weed raises old Ned with a well-hit shot. Clover juice, crushed by the blade of an iron, squirts onto the ball and causes it to cut queer capers. It skids off the club face like an automobile on greasy asphalt. Only clover juice acts just like a splash lubricant."

Few amateurs know that this juice reverses the ordinary reaction of a particular shot. If you take an open stance and cut across the ball expecting to get a slice, the ball is apt to hook and vice versa. When I want to slice off clover I deliberately play for a hook.

"The entire theory of golf is topsy turvy on heavy clover fairways. Irrigation systems are a useless expense. Green blades of grass look pretty, but they make the ball act like a Bureliugh Grimes spitter."

"I've heard people say 'the course is baked so hard that you can't hit a mashie off it.' That's the bunk. I can hit a better pitch shot off a cement floor than from a close lie in soft grass. I'd like to carry a block of cement and tee the ball on it whenever the fairway is mushy and thick with clover."

"You can get stop spin on a pitch without taking any divot if you hit the lower segment of the ball. A good player can put plenty of stuff on shots from a firm, solid surface. I'll make a mangle spin from off a locker room floor."

"The more burned up a fairway is the better I like it. We Texans want to see the dust fly when we lay into an iron shot. Down in the alkali belt we call it 'watching the moon scatter.'"

SPRINKLERS SAVE FAIRWAYS

But as Ellis Knowles, veteran member of the United States Golf Association's ball and implement committee, points out, if it wasn't for elaborate sprinkler plants golf couldn't be played on the average American course during torrid summers.

"A tropical sun scorches fairways to a rusty crisp and bakes them harder than a clay polo field in Burma," stresses Knowles. "Courses would be torn to ribbons after a couple of summers if they were not sprayed with water."

"Melhorn can have his concrete tee block," declares Knowles, an active tournament player since 1905. "I'll play my iron off the sort of turf where a fellow can raise a generous divot. Clover is a plague. I grant you, but a competent green keeper who understands grass roots can reduce this annoyance to a minimum."

"The Ridgewood fairways did happen to be full of clover when the Ryder Cup matches were played there last fall. That was a bad break for the British professionals who practically never encounter this treacherous hazard at home. Instead of under clubbing and hitting down hard on the ball, they took the stronger club and swung through easily. No wonder their approaches skidded off the club face."

WATER TO BE DISCUSSED AT LAGUNA MEET

Problems pertaining to the bringing of water to Orange county already here will be the center of a forum discussion tonight, when members of the Orange County Coast association and the Associated Chambers of Commerce meet at Laguna Beach. The session will be held in the Laguna hotel, and is called for 6:30 p. m.

Chief among the topics to be discussed will be the availability of water from the Colorado river through the development of the Metropolitan Water district project. An authorized spokesman representing the MWD will be present to answer questions, according to an announcement by Harry Welch and H. M. May, secretaries of the two associations meeting tonight.

These questions will come in for their share of the discussion: What will be the cost of aqueduct water delivered in Orange county?

Can this water be purchased by districts not members of MWD? How much longer will such districts have opportunity to join the MWD? Can Orange county join as a unit without increasing the obligation of the cities already belonging?

Would the taking of membership by Orange county water district secure all the water needed?

If irrigated county lands outside the member cities are organized into districts, each joining as a separate new unit, how many such districts should there be? What precautions could be taken to prevent small districts from remaining out of MWD and continuing to pump from the water supply released as member districts cease pumping?

Would public discussion of MWD membership at this time conflict with acceptance of the federal government's flood control dams proposal?

PARKING SPACE METER PARKING FOR TAXICABS PROTEST FILED TO BE LIMITED WITH COUNCIL

Taxicab operators in Santa Ana no longer will be allowed to use as much parking space in front of their headquarters as they may need, city council decided unanimously last night.

On motion of Councilman Plummer, Bruns, police commissioner, provisions of Ordinance 682, Section 7, will be enforced rigidly, council decided by vote. The ordinance allows taxicab companies 14 feet along curbs where angle parking is the style permitted, and 20 feet, where parallel parking is permitted. Bruns said he had received considerable complaint due to the excessive amount of space used by a taxicab company at Third and Sycamore.

Council ordered the city engineer to paint the allotted amount of space red, with white lettering reading "Taxi Only".

Protest of J. F. Witt that a taxi is a public convenience and the order will put the taxicab company out of business, was to no avail. Witt pointed out that 15 to 20 parking spaces are located behind the building he owns and thus keep 15 or 20 cars off of the streets. Witt owns the building in which the taxi

Only one protest against the city council's plan to bring in "drop-your-nickel" parking meters for use on city streets was registered last night at the regular meeting. It was received and filed.

The protest came from A. N. Zerman, president of the Santa Ana Development company, owners of Grand Central market, who objected to establishment of the meters in the block bounded by First, Sycamore, Second and Broadway "unless every block in the business area is fitted with the meters."

"The meters should not be installed until a majority of our neighboring cities adopt them," he declared.

With an expense allowance of $100, Councilman Ernest Layton now is in the east, visiting several cities in which the meters are now operative, to see whether they are feasible here. The council plans to establish 100 meters here for "trial". If they "work" the plan is to buy several hundred, probably "on time," permitting the motorists who use them to pay for their parking with their nickels on a "pay-as-you-park" basis.

The meters may be so regulated that the five cents allows a half hour, an hour, or any specified length of time for parking. When the parking period is over, a warning "flag" reveals it to the motorist—or ticket-writing traffic officer.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, August 18.—You have seen pictures in which movie magazine interviewers were caricatured. Then you must also have conceived fantastic notions of what these people look like in real life, because without fail studio officials choose the most ludicrous types procurable. One such appeared in "Showboat", others in "Once in a Lifetime" and "Blonde Bombshell". Women interviewers are unfailingly pictured as fat, sloppy, bespectacled frumps; men as emaciated, cringing human apologies. When these exaggerated prototypes flash on screens at Hollywood previews, actors and executives crowd with delight, while the magazine fraternity tugs at collars in high dudgeon. Often I think this is the movies' sly way of getting even with the press for taking liberties with stars' private lives.

It is true that among the fan magazine writers there are some queer creatures. It is equally true that many interviewers are exceptionally handsome. At least two women scribes hold standing invitations to turn actresses. Three others were actresses before they became writers; two of these Dorothy Dwan and Eileen Percy, were leading ladies. As for the masculine element, several are degenerate handsomer than many actors who deem themselves to be 1936 Adonises. I hasten to conclude this paragraph with the remark that there is no reason why I should carry the torch for movie magazine scribes except to correct in your mind the possible movie-moulded belief that all of them are fat pigs wearing thick-lenses glasses. Some of them are not.

One of those painful moments that leave smears on life's ledgers occurred at Warner Brothers studio. Dick Powell and Joan Blondell were waiting to be camera-ed, and Dick undertook to outline the plot of their picture to a visiting friend. "It is the story of a stage director too fond of the bottle," Dick explained. "He is involved in an automobile accident, and his career is practically ruined. The story is very true to life." At that instant he glanced up. Director Busby Berkeley was listening, a strange gleam in his eye. Berkeley is the director who recently was involved in a tragic automobile accident which caused the death of three people.

COUNCIL NOTES

City council last night adjourned for one week instead of the usual two weeks in order to be able to consider the tax rate ordinance within the time limit. Next meeting will be at 7:30 p. m., August 24.

After informal granting of permission to Police Chief Floyd Howard to leave the state between August 12 and August 22, and City Judge J. G. Mitchell between August 29 and 40 days later, council last night gave formal permission. Chief Howard already has left the state, on an air trip to Mexico City. Mayor Fred C. Rowland said the judge would not be gone 40 days but wished a little leeway in the time of departure and return.

Council received and filed a condensed report submitted for June by Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana's Metropolitan Water District representative, in connection with the MWD activities and ordered another condensed report of the July activities of MWD. City Auditor Lloyd Banks prepared the condensed report for June and will condense the July report similarly.

Request of W. Lester Tubbs and H. C. Timmons for permission to construct a two-family dwelling on a lot at Jefferson and Nineteenth streets was referred to the planning commission for investigation and report, when council met last night.

The planning commission was asked by city council last night to consider request of Charitz Adams that the property at 311 West Eighth be re-zoned to permit Dr. H. B. Christiansen to conduct an eye, ear, nose and throat business there, in what is now single-family zone, and to make recommendation.

William Nielsen and Burnette Lane were officially accepted by city council last night as newly appointed police officers here. Nielsen, former department member, is a new motorcycle officer, while Lane is a radio patrolman and traffic officer. The men were appointed by Police Chief Floyd Howard, as of August 1.

Contract for doing the city's printing during the present fiscal year was awarded officially last night by council to the only bidder, Printers association, made up of 10 local commercial printing concerns who will divide the work among them. City Auditor Banks, to whom the bid was submitted for check-up, reported it was worthy of acceptance. It totaled $1723.25.

On motion of Councilman William Penn who said he wished to wait until all members of the council are present before awarding the contract for publishing of ordinances, resolutions, notices and other city advertising, consideration of the two bids submitted was put over another week. The Orange County Reporter submitted the low bid—30 cents per inch for all advertising inserted in its columns. The Register did not bid for the contract this year.

The Veterans' Welfare board, on request of Secretary George A. Compton, was granted exemption by council last night, in connection with assessments for taxes upon lots owned here by the board. The assessments upon street improvements.

Gordon Rase, 23, 1402 Cypress, was given permission by council last night to drive a taxicab in Santa Ana.

Although, at public hearing last night, no protests were entered against W. A. Atkinson's request for permission to rezone the southwest corner of Eighth and Bush, from residential to first class apartment house zone and 14 signatures were on a favoring petition, the planning commission withheld approval pending receipt of construction plans. Council asked the planners to report and recommend later.

Request of the Santa Ana Ebell club that another street light be placed on French street between Sixth and Stafford, was referred last night by city council to the street commissioner (now out of the city) and the city engineer, with power to act.

Recommendation of the city planning commission to city council that Flower street between Washington and Seventeenth be opened to a width of 56 feet between curbs and that proper setback lines be established for property owners of the area, was referred back to the special Flower street committee of council for more consideration.

After conducting a public hearing last night, of the proposal to rezone West First street between Parton and Broadway for business, city council referred the question back to city planning commission for investigation and recommendation. The planning commission sat with the council at the public hearing last night. Following reference of the petition asking the rezoning, to the planners, they declared they would make a study of the proposal during the next two weeks. Several protests were entered against the change, last night, two of them from John C. and J. May Gardner, who said there "is no valid reason for such change now."

TODAY'S TRUCKS OPERATE 1/3 CHEAPER PER TON MILE

But old fashioned lubricants are actually not suited to these new economical power plants.

EIGHTY horsepower instead of forty—and for less cost—that's typical of the marvels accomplished by motor truck manufacturers in the last five years.

Light trucks—heavy trucks—Diesels—the cost-sheets of truck operators tell the story of a 33% saving on a ton-mile basis.

What about Oil?

Lubrication cannot now be left to chance. In these new engines, it is a primary factor of operation. Rolling at greater road speeds and with higher revolutions per minute, with finer clearances and marvelous new precisions, the new trucks demand a motor oil equally fine. Old style oils are not adequate.

RPM Motor Oil is a new oil, developed by Standard Oil research engineers, especially to meet the requirements of new motor car and truck engines. One hundred and forty-six different crude oils were tested and analyzed in establishing the specifications for its performance.

Large Gain In Santa Ana Postal Receipts Reported

GIVE VETERANS
BONUS CREDIT FOR INCREASES

Veterans who "salted away" part of their bonus payments were responsible for a major part of the increase in postal savings at the Santa Ana post office by $22,780 during the period from March 31 to June 30, in the opinion of postal officials.

The total of postal savings at Santa Ana on June 30, as reported to the department by the local postmaster, was $777,542. Officials pointed out that this figure has not been officially audited yet, and must therefore be regarded as an "estimate". Any subsequent adjustment, however, will be very small, it was admitted.

On March 31, postal savings at Santa Ana totaled $754,762, according to records of the postoffice department.

With the "hit" given by bonus deposits, postal savings throughout the country reached a new high with the end of the 1936 fiscal year, on June 30. The increase during the fiscal year was more than 27 million dollars, it is reported.

Old time dancing each Tuesday night at the Palms ballroom. Third and Ross streets, will be sponsored by the Townsend clubs of Santa Ana, it was revealed last night when city council granted necessary permission without requiring license.

Request for the permit was made by H. F. Kinny, Townsend organizer, who explained the charge would be 15 cents and the proceeds would go to pay expenses of the Townsend speakers' bureau. Dancing will continue from 8 to midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pederson, directors of an old time dance program in Long Beach, will conduct the dances here "in clean and wholesome manner," Kinny said.

New Records

To the Santa Ana Junior college class of 1936 goes the honor of making the best scholarship record in the history of the institution, Registrar Mabel G. Whiting revealed today.

Miss Peggy Applegate, Santa Ana co-ed, maintained the highest record among the 118 June graduates to receive the junior college title of Associate of Arts. During her two years of college work Miss Applegate made an average of 2.80. This is the highest individual mark made at the junior college during the past four years.

The list of those maintaining an average of 2.00 or better included 24 students or more than 20 per cent of those to receive the A. A. title which is a remarkable record, Miss Whiting said. Those to attain the high marks were enrolled from various Orange county communities as follows:

Cypress, Allan Mackay; Garden Grove, Sherman J. Brady, William Brady; Huntington Beach, Sam Gosney; Laguna Beach, Joseph Langland; Orange, Alice Compton, Esther Thomas.

Police Here
Check "Tip"
On Killing

Murder may "out" here soon if the strange, printed note pulled from the inside of an automobile hub cap by a local mechanic is grounded in fact, according to city police.

Letters are on their way today to the United States Navy and to Walla Walla state prison in Washington to ask a thorough check-up and assistance to local police.

The note, printed on a thick piece of paper and found by Harry Plummer, 625 North Garnsey, mechanic at the R. B. Henderson Paint shop, 509 Pacific street, declared:

"Charles Fowler of Walla prison killed Dennis (J)unz of Evansville, Indiana after he got out of the United States Navy. Hot tip!"

The note was discovered as Plummer removed the hub cap of the left front wheel of a Ford V-8 sedan, 1934, repossessed from Leonard Lujan, formerly of Fullerton and believed now to be living in Los Angeles. S. V. Mansur of the Mansur Motor company, Orange, said he sold the car to Lujan on October 18, 1935. The car originally belonged to W. O. Hart, editor of the Orange News.

The note contained several small blotches of grease which obscured the first letter of the alleged victim's last name, officers pointed out although the last name most probably is "Bum", "Lung" or "Dum". Officers Harry Fink and Charles Wolford are making a complete check-up on the strange note and Wolford will put the note through a special solution to determine, if possible, the one letter which is illegible. The note was printed plainly in pencil. Lujan was being sought today to determine whether he has any additional information to assist in running down the basis for the note being placed in the car wheel.

CITY TO PLAN
'AIR ARMADA' TO AIR RACES

Tentative arrangements being made by Mayor Fred C. Rowland for Santa Ana to take a minor but friendly part in the National Air Races scheduled for Los Angeles on September 4, 5, 6 and 7, were approved by city council last night.

The mayor suggested a party of several air-minded Santa Anans be formed as an "air armada" to leave from Eddie Martin's airport south of the city and to welcome incoming aviators; he also suggested a welcoming committee be formed to serve light refreshment to the visitors, at the airport here.

On suggestion of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, permission was granted to the police department to provide a motorcycle escort to a cavalcade of five decorated automobiles which will arrive here from Los Angeles Thursday afternoon, September 3. The escort will accompany the cars from the city limits to the city hall and back again. Members of the cavalcade will stop at the city hall to invite Santa Anans to the air races.

WEED CONTROL PAYMENTS ARE PROVIDED FOR

Farmers in Orange County who have filed work sheets under the Agricultural Conservation program may file application for undertaking perennial weed control projects eligible for payments from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to John Murdy, president of the Orange county Agricultural Conservation association, word having been received to that effect from the state committee.

Payment will be made for the adoption of perennial weed control practices by chemical treatment or periodic cultivation at the rates prescribed for such practices, respectively. Interested farmers should apply to the farm advisor's office, where Mr. J. H. Burnett, secretary of the county agricultural conservation committee, will give full information as to the requirements.

Payment for the adoption of perennial weed control practices will be limited to the control of alkali mallow, Austrian field cross, Canada thistle, Hoary cross, Klamath weed, Morning glory, Nut grass and Russian Knapweed.

The ground dealt with must be seriously infested, according to the requirement laid down by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The maximum payment for perennial weed control by chemical treatment is $10 per acre, and for periodic cultivation control, $5 per acre.

For gully control under the Agricultural Conservation Program in Orange county, payment can be received at the rate of as high as $5 per acre, according to conservation regulations.

Farmers interested in controlling soil erosion in gullies on their places should ask Mr. Burnett for an application form on which certain specific information must be given.

Suggestions contained in U. S. Department of Agriculture Farmers' Bulletin No. 1234, "Gullies—How to Control and Reclaim Them," will be found useful by farmers in carrying out the required provisions. This may be obtained from the farm advisor's office.

The State Agricultural Conservation Committee will give its approval of proposed gully control projects only after it has been determined that the control measures proposed will practically and effectively control soil erosion in the gully. Only those farmers

HOLTVILLE MAN IS JAILED ON DRUNK CHARGE

Arrested on a charge of being intoxicated and on suspicion of issuing a $25 fictitious check, Saturday evening at Chestnut and Main, by city police, Jack DuBois, 34, who said he lived in Holtville, today was taking the first lap of a 100-day term in county jail upon conviction of being drunk. City Judge J. G. Mitchell sent DuBois to jail.

Meanwhile, Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford was checking on circumstances surrounding DuBois' effort to cash a $25 check at two business houses here Saturday. DuBois told officers he was a wealthy Holtville rancher but a check-up brought reports from a Holtville business man that DuBois hitch-hiked into the town three weeks ago, broke.

However, further check-up with bank officials today determined

PLAN SEVERAL NEW EVENTS IN ISLAND SWIM

A two and a half mile open swim around Balboa island, an open paddle-board race over the same course, a 100-meter race for men and one for women, all these are in the open events listed for the Newport harbor junior aquatic meet scheduled for August 29.

There also will be a strong list of swimming, diving and other contests open to all summer and permanent residents in the Newport harbor district. The entries will be large and many events must be run off in relays to take care of the gathering.

An active committee of Balboa islanders has been created to carry out the meet and all sections of Balboa island and the harbor district are cooperating to see that an outstanding amateur junior aquatic event is held. The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce is offering nearly 100 trophies and medals for the various races. All open events have a gold trophy cup for first prize. There are four sweepstake prizes for junior and senior girls and boys divisions in the harbor district contests.

Particular attention is being paid to the younger athletes. The first event is a 15-meter race for boys up to six years of age, with a similar race for girls of the same age. The top age limit for entries in the district races is 17 years. The meet will take place on the channel north of Balboa island, where safe, still water makes an ideal location for this type of meeting. All styles of swimming races as well as diving, canoe-tilting, paddleboard and rowboat races are included. The meet will be open at 11 o'clock in the morning.

In charge are Kenneth Baum, Dick Blomer, Joe Lengsfeld, Andy Ong, George Russell, Chuck Brown, Ray Loomis, Waldo Ong and Conrad Shook.

Rich and Reckless

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MOLLY MILFORD, rich and popular, has received proposals of marriage from three suitors, but BRENT STUART, whom she loves, has not asked her to marry him.

Bored with parties, Molly asks Brent to take her to "The Red Poppy," a questionable night club. He refuses. Molly, annoyed, goes with WICK ROSS, another suitor.

The lights go out suddenly and when they come on again Molly finds herself dancing with a handsome stranger. He is, in reality, NELSON PERGUSON, bank robber, and he is one of a group planning to spirit Molly away and hold her for ransom.

A few days later Perguson telephones and asks her to have dinner with him. Molly agrees. Waiting for him at a downtown store, she encounters a girl who appears to be her exact double. Impulsively Molly exchanges her luxurious costume for the other girl's shabby one.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V
WHEN they were seated in the low, powerfully built roadster Nelson Whittaker turned and stared at Molly. His expression was puzzled, displeased.

"What," he began, "have you done to yourself? It's a masquerade, isn't it? Some kind of joke on me?"

Molly didn't like the tone of his voice. It was irritated, tinged with resentment. "Don't you like me as well in these clothes?" she asked.

"Suits me, if it does you," Nelson Whittaker spoke abruptly, "but the idea back of it puzzles me."

Molly was silent for a moment. The words had sounded crude. She felt a sense of disappointment, too, because he was not quite as handsome by daylight as he had been in the softened glow of "The Red Poppy."

MOLLY was troubled. The thought of Brent brought a lump in her throat. How wise he was. What foolish, romantic notion had brought her out tonight with a man who was a complete stranger to her? On her way with him to some unknown place called "Frenchy's?"

"Is it far to Frenchy's?" she asked suddenly.

He turned and she felt his eyes searching her face. "Not very," he said. "Why?"

Molly hesitated. "I was thinking if it is, perhaps it would be best not to go there tonight, because I must be back by 10."

"Double-dating? Well, if you keep him waiting, that's his hard luck."

No, Molly decided, I don't like him at all. I wish I were at home. He was putting on some sort of act. The Red Poppy.

"Comfortable," Nelson Whittaker inquired.

"Yes, perfectly," Molly answered. "This is a grand car. It's new, isn't it?"

"Well, almost. I bought it today from a fellow because it's some traveler."

"Going away?" Molly asked. "I'm thinking of it."

Odd. Everybody seemed to be going away. Molly was wishing now that she had gone to Lake Placid, as Donna had suggested. Then she wouldn't be moving away from familiar surroundings in a car that could travel. Nelson Whittaker must make a marvelous salary to be able to go out and buy a car like this so casually.

MOLLY breathed quickly, then spoke impulsively: "I'm afraid it was only an impulse, asking me to dinner, and already you're regretting it. Or perhaps I hurt your pride accepting your invitation and coming dressed like this. Somehow I have the feeling you are not pleased. There's something wrong. Let's turn back."

"Not a chance!" His voice rang vibrantly. "I'm sorry if I've been rude. To tell the truth, there's a deal I'm trying to put over. A big deal, and my nerves are jumpy. Maybe you've never gambled. If I lose—"

"My father says you can't trust anybody who's too anxious to sell you stock these days," Molly said. Nelson Whittaker nodded. "Just let me catch any of my friends selling me the wrong kind of stock. Well, here we are at Frenchy's."

He assisted Molly from the car, and she entered the building with a feeling of relief. "Frenchy's" was really not far. Perhaps 10 miles or so from the city.

"Here's 'Frenchy' himself," her companion said. He raised his hand in salute. "Hello, 'Frenchy'!"

The wrinkled, dark-haired old man who had advanced to meet them stared a moment, perplexed. "Back from the dead!" he whispered.

Nelson Whittaker laughed. "More alive than ever, 'Frenchy'. Ghosts don't drive 12 miles for good food and wine."

THE table at which Molly and Whittaker were seated was directly in front of the orchestra stand. Molly stared at the young musicians frankly. Already a plan was forming in her mind. One of the youths had a sensitive, attractive face. He would be the one to aid her, if a way opened for her to communicate with him. "Ask them to play something from Leoncavallo's 'I Pagliacci,'" Molly said quickly, and was rewarded by seeing the blank amazement in her escort's eyes. He didn't know grand opera, Molly saw, and would be loathe to reveal his ignorance.

"May I send them a little note with a request number?" she asked, smiling flatteringly,

Swimming Is Enjoyed At Birthday Party

Privileged to entertain a group of her friends in celebration of her fourteenth birthday anniversary, Miss Crystal Rudd planned a delightful day Saturday, with swimming and beach sports as a prelude to the birthday luncheon served at noon in the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rudd, 321 Coronado street, Balboa.

Her young guests arrived early in the forenoon in the colorful shorts and play-suits appropriate for the gay informality, and were soon enjoying a dip in the cool waters of the bay. Returning to the house, the young people found a charming scene in the dining room, where blinds were drawn and lights were shaded by deep marine blue shades.

The table was spread with crepe paper as deep in hue as the summer sea, and centered with a beautiful cake iced in white wave effect with a stately little silver boat floating between the 14 birthday feasters. Silver hosts held the place cards and were pretty favors for the guests who were the Misses Betty and Gloria Banks, Phyllis Bemis, Flo-Plo Pivian, Margaret Kenyon, Virginia and Helen Finley, Helen Holzgrafe, Katherine Hambricht and Phyllis Luther of this city, and Rosemary McDonald of Fresno.

Mrs. Rudd was assisted in planning the party by her houseguest, Mrs. R. L. McDonald. Miss Crystal received a whole array of pretty gifts, which were quite the center of interest as the afternoon advanced.

Annual Observance of Anniversary Held In Anaheim Park

Each year as the date of August 15 arrives, it is signal for a joyous celebration on the part of friends of Mrs. Frank Wakeham, who compliment her with a special birthday party, usually in picnic form.

Today was no exception to this rule, and "Aunt Margaret" as Mrs. Wakeham is known lovingly to a whole host of "her girls," was center of interest at a gay affair in Anaheim Park. Dinner at noon was served in one of the most charming picnic corners of the park with tables gay with flowers and fragrant with odors from inviting home-prepared dishes.

Prominent place was given the birthday cakes, baked again this year, according to established custom, by Mrs. F. F. Smith and daughter, Miss Minna Smith of Anaheim.

Each year Mrs. Smith and Miss Smith consider it their own privilege to provide the birthday cakes, and each year the other close friends consider it an even greater privilege to eat them, so richly delicious they always prove to be.

This year's attendance was, perhaps, not quite so large as in earlier years, for there are several vacant places in this circle of intimate friends. There were tender memories recalled of earlier gatherings, but the greater part of the day was truly happy, with guests chatting of their years of association, strolling through the grounds, and admiring lily pools and flower arrangements.

Mrs. Wakeham's only daughter, Mrs. E. P. Rogers of Omaha, Neb., arrived several weeks ago especially to be here for the anniversary. Others present with the honor guest herself, Mrs. Wakeham, were Mrs. F. F. Smith and Miss Minna Smith of Anaheim; Miss Jennie McFadden, Altadena; Mrs. Sears, Pasadena; Mrs. Lawrence Wakeham, Mrs. E. S. Wakeham, Miss Mary Wakeham, Miss Margaret Ore, Mrs. Clarence Skiles, Mrs. Edwin Dessery, Miss Lillian Craig, Miss Pauline Parsons, Mrs. Hattie Vanderlip, Mrs. Carolyn Thompson, Mrs. Etta Evans, Mrs. Lucy E. Avas and Mrs. Bennett, all of Santa Ana and Tustin.

Mission Chapel Setting Given Naval Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. F. Chapman and Clarence Sprague of this city were guests who motored yesterday morning to San Juan Capistrano for the wedding in the picturesque chapel of the old Mission, of Miss Mary Encell, lovely daughter of the Harry A. Encells of Oakland and Laguna Beach, and Ensign Michael Lusey of Bangor, Maine. The bride, a graduate of University of California where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority, was charmingly gowned in a full-skirted white organdy. Her hat had a crown of snowy velvet petals and a brief white veil, and she carried orchids wreathed with white sweet peas showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Virginia Encell was her sister's honor maid and wore a bouffant blue organdy gown with picture hat in the same delicate tone. Deeper in color were the gown and picture hat worn by Miss Mary Isch, bridesmaid, and both attendants carried arm clusters of asters in lavender and deep rose pink.

Ensign Lusey, who graduated from United States Naval Academy at Annapolis two years ago, was in full dress uniform. His best man, Ensign Henry Monroe, likewise was in uniform. John Encell, brother of the bride, as usher, completed the wedding party.

Following the exchange of wedding vows in the presence of a number of San Francisco and Southern California friends, including many naval officers and their wives from San Diego, the newly wedded pair received good wishes of their friends at a reception held in Hotel Laguna. There the new Mrs. Lusey observed naval traditions by cutting the wedding cake with her bridegroom's sword.

When the young couple took their departure from Our Village, the bride appeared in a smart flowing print costume whose brown tones were emphasized by hat and dress accessories in British tan. The orchids from the bridal bouquet formed her corsage. She is a granddaughter of a pioneer resident of Laguna Beach and of Riverside, Mrs. E. B. Howe, 330 Park avenue, Laguna Beach.

Others at the wedding from that vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Isch, Mrs. G. G. Pendleton, Mrs. Morris Isch, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Glasscock, Mrs. F. Kringard, Mrs. W. E. Storey, the Misses Mary Williams, Julie Bingham, Ida Griffith, June Storey and Aileen Malsch, and also the bride's grandfather, Chester Encell of Los Angeles.

J. R. Babbitt Shares Birthday Joys With Luncheon Guests

It was a gay group of relatives and close friends who assembled recently in the yard of the Harry McCormack home, 728 Kilson drive, to celebrate the eightieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. McCormack's father, J. R. Babbitt, who lives at 803 Kilson drive.

Tables for the al fresco affair were made attractive with bouquets of zinnias in a riot of color. The celebrants' daughters, Mrs. McCormack of this city; Mrs. George D. Brewer, Los Angeles; Mrs. A. W. McBride, La Habra, and Miss Ellie Babbitt, Ventura, had prepared a delicious luncheon, which was served at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Sharing honors with Mr. Babbitt was his grandnephew's wife, Mrs. Cecil Williams. So it was that the dessert course included two decorated cakes which were served with ice cream. There were birthday gifts including many bouquets of flowers for Mr. Babbitt.

During the afternoon, men of the party played horseshoes.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCormack and daughter, Jean; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, Miss Pearl and Kenneth Nicholson, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams, Los Angeles; Mrs. Ann Driscoll, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McBride, La Habra, and Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt, with former Iowa friends of the Babbitts, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walker and son, Robert Crossley, and Miss Elizabeth Hansen, of Pasadena.

Friends Give Shower
As Surprise to Bride-elect

Honoring Miss Hesper Turner, whose marriage to J. Preston Bradford of San Fernando will take place next month, was a surprise shower Friday evening in the home of the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Minnie Turner, East Fifth street.

A group of friends joined in giving the affair, for which the home was brightened with gladioli and other flowers in tones of red. I. N. Camp had provided some of the lovely blossoms.

Presentation of miscellaneous shower gifts to Miss Turner was one of the highlights of the evening. Refreshments were served to conclude other events of the party.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bachman and son, Donald; Mrs. Minnie Turner, Mrs. C. H. Camp and sons, Charles Jr., and Bobbie; William Lage, Mrs. Russell Bright, Mrs. Everett McKinney, Mrs. Pearl Allison, Mrs. H. J. Bradford and the Misses Grace Fox, Alta Hunter, Alice Bradford; and the honoree, Miss Turner.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit camp and auxiliary U. S. W. V. were represented by many members Sunday at National Military home in Sawtelle, where annual Manila day picnic was held. The celebration commemorated the battle of Manila bay in 1898, the greatest naval victory in history up to that date.

Scores of visitors joined inmates of the home for the picnic. Members of Calumpit auxiliary aided in carrying out plans for the affair, taking many dishes and table service to make it possible for comrades in the home to share the day's pleasures.

Calumpit drum corps took part in the program of the afternoon. Guests were interested in inspecting the grounds, with their many buildings and fine facilities for the convenience of the inmates, veterans from all parts of the United States.

Club Hostesses Plan
Al Fresco Supper
For B. P. W.

"Work is the thing we do because we have to, while play is that which we do because we like to," according to Miss Dorothy Humiston's definition, advanced last night for the entertainment of Business and Professional Women's club members at their supper party in Anaheim park.

Miss Humiston, of the physical education department of State Teacher's college, Cedar Falls, Ia., is spending the summer here with her father and sister, Fred L. Humiston, and Miss Genevieve Humiston, 1907 North Main street. She was decidedly entertaining as a speaker for the club to which her sister belongs. She declared that she was going to explode several prevailing beliefs regarding posture, diet and exercise in her talk on the general theme of "The Fountain of Perpetual Youth," and then proceeded to make her word good. She cited statistics to prove that exercise has been much over-rated as a means of weight reducing, and incidentally showed several simple physical exercises which are easily followed and well adapted to overcome fatigue—their chief value, according to current belief.

Posture, diet and exercise are subject to ever changing fads, declared Miss Humiston, who laid down several simple rules to be applied by the individual. Her humor in developing her subject, was no small part of the pleasure of her audience.

This informally presented program followed the supper planned and prepared by Mrs. Catherine Stinson and Miss Damaris Beaman. Their assistants included the Misses Alma Karlsson, Martha Whitson, Effie White, Helen Gallagher and Louise Kaiser.

Others present were four guests, Miss Humiston, Mrs. J. L. Willson of Piedmont, Miss Grace Elizabeth Lansing of Orange County General hospital, and Miss Esther Schultz, with Miss Lena Thomas, president; Ella Van Benthuse, Gladys Cernick, Charlotte Bacon, Genevieve Humiston, Alice Wassner, Anita Alexander, Ella Vezie, Ruth Rensberger, Edith W. Thatcher, Mabel Whiting, Marie Fowler, Flora Clark, Laura McNaught, Olivia Clark, Betty Bodenhamer, Justine Whitney, Adelaide Cochran, Julia Ann Hyde, Grace S. Wolff, Emma Van Dusen, Harriett Whidden, Lorraine French, Vanche Plumb and Eleanor Elliott.

Because the next meeting date would fall on Labor day, decision was reached to meet on Monday night, August 31. More definite details will be announced later by the September committee to be in charge of program plans.

Young People Enjoy
Bon Voyage Event

Bon voyage to Dick Hewitt who leaves soon for a trip to New York City, was expressed by a trio of young people who entertained in his honor recently with a theater and supper party in Hollywood.

In the group with the honor guest were Miss Bette Campbell, Miss Valerie Demetriou and Perry Planchon. They saw the play, "Parnell," starring Otto Krueger, and then went to the Brown Derby for climactic features of the evening.

Mr. Hewitt will leave soon by boat for the eastern coast, in company with his parents and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hewitt and Mrs. Lena Hewitt. They will ship their car, traveling to various points in the east before they return home by automobile some time in October.

When Dr. and Mrs. H. Raymond Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Kemper Taylor and Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Cleland spent the week end at Catalina island, they had a delightful outing with dancing, swimming and all the varied pleasures of the island affords, with none of the uncertainties or inconveniences attending the making of hotel reservations. For the sextet of merry-makers made the trip across the channel in Dr. Smith's cruiser, the "Faraway," and made it their headquarters during the outing.

Bride-elect Shares
Honors With Members of Family

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Laub and their daughters, the Misses Nell and Ladean, Laub of this city were complimented Sunday evening at a buffet supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rogers, 282 South Main street, Orange, Nelson Rogers, son of the hosts, and Miss Nell Laub will be married next Sunday.

Brought together for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Laub and their two daughters, all of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Arno Soest and son, Calvin, Garden Grove, with the hosts and their son.

Attractively engraved announcements have reached Santa Ana friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Eugene Hays of Pasadena, formerly of this city, of the birth to Mrs. Hays on Thursday, August 13, of a little son, William Eugene Hays Jr.

The baby, who was born in Huntington Memorial hospital, Pasadena, received a royal welcome from an older sister, little Miss Marilyn Hays. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Hays of 318 South Birch street.

Mrs. Gene Hays was Miss May Sexton of this city, a niece of County Assessor James Sleeper, 316 Cypress avenue.

Family Group Stages
Surprise Birthday
Celebration

Mrs. Lena Lankford's eightieth birthday anniversary occasioned a pleasant celebration recently in her home, 842 North Garnsey street, with an intimate family group taking part in the affair.

Roses served as decorations for the party, which came as a surprise to the honoree. Served with the dessert course was a decorated cake which had been made by the honoree's daughter, Mrs. A. L. Zimmer, of Marietta, Ohio.

Many gifts were presented to Mrs. Lankford. Sharing the party with her were her sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Noe, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer and a third daughter, Mrs. Agnes Dowling, of the home; three grandchildren, James Noe, David Zimmer and Martha Dowling, and a niece, Mrs. Harry M. Smith.

The only members of the immediate family not present for the celebration were Mrs. Lankford's son, and grandson, H. W. Lankford and Paul Lankford, of Marietta, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer and their son, David, have left for their home in Ohio after an enjoyable visit with relatives in this city. They were guests in the E. A. Noe home, 414 Mabury street.

Mrs. Theo Johnson and son Teddy, who have been visiting with Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, 409 West Washington avenue, have gone to San Jose to meet Mr. Johnson on his arrival from their home in New York City.

The little family group will visit relatives in San Jose and San Francisco, coming to Santa Ana this week to be guests in the Thomas home. Business interests may call Mr. Johnson east within the next few days. His wife and son expect to remain in the month. They arrived in Santa Ana several weeks ago.

Anniversary Party
Mr. and Mrs. William D. Rudd, 2344 Fairmont avenue, who with their son and daughter, William Jr. and Crystal, are spending the summer at 321 Coronado avenue, Balboa, have had as house-guests for the past week, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McDonald and daughter Rosemary of Fresno.

Saturday was the nineteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rudd so as a special observance of the date they were hosts at a little dancing party staged in the Los Angeles Biltmore, where Mr. and Mrs. McDonald dined in advance of the evening of dancing. R. L. McDonald occupies the same managerial position in Fresno with the National Cash Register company that Mr. Rudd occupies in Santa Ana.

An unforgettable experience shared by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sebastian and their son, Stanley, and Mrs. Mrs. Julian D. Mathews, while vacationing in the mountains back of Bishop creek, was a tremendous electrical storm over in Death valley, which they were privileged to watch as though it were in an arena below them. The unique thing about the section of the country where they enjoyed ten days of camping and fishing is that both the highest and the lowest points in the United States are so nearly adjoining. Mount Whitney and Death valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian and Stanley returned at the end of the past week to their home, 730 Orange avenue, leaving the camping equipment with Mr. and Mrs. Mathews, who are continuing to Convent lake and Lake Tahoe for some of the fishing which was spoiled by rains in the Bishop country. They will be gone perhaps two weeks longer before returning to their home, 513 North Ross street.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES
AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoons daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SELECTION OF JURY TO TRY STRIKERS LAGS

Examination of jurors for the trial of five Mexican orange strikers charged with rioting at the Gackstetter ranch near Orange July 6 proceeded slowly today as defense lawyers hunted for possible prejudices that might prevent a fair trial for the strikers.

Attorney W. M. Burke, of Santa Ana, one of the defense attorneys, conducted the examination of jurors and had not completed questioning the first 12 summoned to the jury box, when noon recess arrived. The prosecution's turn to examine the talesmen had not been reached.

Robert Feliz and four co-defendants were charged with rioting after an asserted attack upon E. M. Edwards, orchard guard, and Thomas Vega, picker.

A jury had been summoned to hear the case, but the accused waived a jury trial at the last moment and elected to have the judge try the case. The trial lasted most of yesterday.

The charge grew out of a three-car accident near Bolso Chica Club grounds last June. It was charged that Parker tried to pass by an approaching auto and in getting back into his own line of traffic, struck an auto which in turn struck a third car, piling the three autos in a wreck, with injuries to one woman and damage to all three autos.

Justice Pann set Saturday morning at 10 o'clock as the time for passing sentence on Baker.

STREET WORK AUTHORIZED BY CITY COUNCIL

PLACENTIA, Aug. 18.—Placentia city council last night adopted the budget for 1936-37 and made preliminary plans for adopting a city street improvement program under a new WPA program.

The largest item of expenditure is in the police department, totalling $3600, and the next is for street maintenance.

After a report by George Bates, city engineer, as to the proposed plan for improving streets under a WPA project, the council authorized Mayor C. R. Young to sign a project plan when it is ready. This will include the grading and repair of most of the streets of the city.

Ray M. Brown, manager, thanked the council on behalf of the Placentia Mutual Orange association for its part in the recent citrus strike, sending a letter to that effect.

FUND OFFER OF CITY ACCEPTED BY DIRECTORS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 18.—Chamber of commerce directors in a meeting last night at their offices gave the city council a unanimous vote of confidence in the matter of the state park board tideland drilling measure which comes before the voters at the election in November.

The action of the chamber of commerce directors is virtually an endorsement of the tideland drilling measure, which provides for slant drilling from the littoral lands for all state tidelands.

Mayor Warner and Councilmen Channess and Morehouse, were at the meeting. When asked by E. E. Bundy, chamber of commerce director, as to what this city would get out of the proposed tideland drilling if the voters approve the measure, Mayor Warner said that would be a matter for the council to work out, but that there would assuredly be an increased tax revenue for one thing.

There was discussion of the measure by several directors and by members of the council, but when put to a vote the motion sustaining the city council carried unanimously.

Chamber of commerce finances were discussed in detail and a motion authorizing the finance committee to accept the offer of the city council to finance the chamber for the current year to the extent of $2100 was accepted by unanimous vote.

Mayor Warner explained that the music and promotion fund at the close of the city fiscal year was overdrawn and the city finances as budgeted did not permit any greater pledge of funds to the chamber at this time.

Councilman Channess said he would favor advancing part of the $2100 now for current expenses and salaries of the chamber.

LOUIS 3-1 CHOICE OVER JACK SHARKEY

the heavyweight title next year. He figures Louis is a soft touch. From the day he exploded the myth of invincibility that cloaked Harry Wills in 1926 until he was knocked out by Primo Carnera's "invisible punch" and lost his title, Sharkey has been the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the boxing game. No one can tell what he will do when he faces the young Negro.

Louis, the supremely confident warrior of pre-Schmeling days is definitely a "Mr. X." He seems far from the fierce, two-fisted fighting machine which annihilated sparring partners in training sessions prior to his K. O. by Max Schmeling. He actually backed away from spar mates in his Pompton Lakes camp. There is no talk of what round he'll get his man in. He merely says, "I expect a tough fight."

"Louis Gun Shy"—Dempsey Many competent critics believe Louis will never shake off the effects of the terrific beating he took from Schmeling, Jack Dempsey says: "I think Louis is gun shy."

WEEKLY OPINIONS

Furnished by Wm. Cavalier & Co., 516 North Main Street

STANDARD STATISTICS: The market thus far has been called upon to absorb little important liquidation, and although buying has not been aggressive, average prices have continued to advance regularly. Stocks representing the durable goods industries, such as steel, railroad equipment, electrical equipment and copper, as well as railroads serving industrial centers were in demand last week. On the other hand, shares are still lagging, reflecting drought influences on sales of packers' cans, shoe retailers remain depressed as a result of lower earnings. Silver stocks are lethargic, as investors question the permanence of the Government's silver program. The market is by no means a uniform affair; selection of holdings is perhaps more important to the successful investor at this time than correct interpretation of the market's general trend.

MOODY: The broad outlook continues favorable; no change in policy is indicated. The news over coming weeks may be less inspiring than in the recent past—politics, foreign affairs, drought, etc., but the tide of recovery should sustain sentiment and the market. Current price earnings ratio, although they may appear high, should occasion slight concern so long as the angle of earnings improvement is sharply upward.

BABSON: Traditionally stocks are regarded at reasonable levels when prices are running in a zone of 10 to 20 times annual earnings. In figuring this ratio it is customary to take earnings for the latest 12 months available. One danger of following any such rule-of-thumb is that earnings power during the next 12 months may sharply change. For example: Last December and January, many investors mistakenly figured that stocks were too high, as a matter of fact, earnings were climbing upward toward levels where the price-earnings ratio became only about 14. That ratio appears on the safe side, especially in view of the low yields on bonds and savings accounts. More dependable than arbitrary formulas are the conclusions based upon underlying statistics. These indicate that you should keep your holdings of selected diversified stocks.

UNITED BUSINESS SERVICE: We strongly advise expansion of sales campaigns this fall to take advantage of the opportunities which will be present. Aggregate volumes are likely to be the highest for any autumn season since 1929, and should exceed 1935 figures, on the average, by at least 10%. Sales results over the next few months will compare with sharply rising volumes in the last half of 1935, and therefore percentage gains will probably not be so wide as they have been over past months. Both heavy industries and consumer lines are expected to reach higher levels of activity, the former stimulated by gains in building construction and expanding industrial demand, the latter buoyed up by a well maintained level of consumer buying power, both urban and rural.

BARRON'S: Reactions are disconcerting but unavoidable even in orthodox markets. When as now investing influences are paramount breathing spells are requisite for accumulation of a fresh reservoir of buying power. That a boom psychology has not yet developed in the face of the most promising business prospects since 1929 is the best insurance to date against the outbreak of menacing liquidation.

GRACERS WIN OVER BANKERS AGAIN

a start in the sixth when Heard dropped Hemphill's hurried throw to first to give Ortega "life." Ortega going to second when the ball rolled away from Heard toward the dugout. Joe Standifer advanced Ortega to third on his infield out and he scored on Nate Levens' hard-hit homer in to deep center gave Joe's final run in the seventh.

Despite the seventh inning furor, the feature of the game was Pitcher Bob Mott's effective hurling. Although occasional wildness—he issued three passes—got him in hot water, the big left hander pitched himself out masterfully. A high hard one, deceptive change of pace, coupled with a tricky windup had the Commercial's pretty well pocketed and managed Harold Finley's men rather but four hits. Armand Hanson pitched the last two innings, allowing no hits or runs.

The clubs collide for the third time Thursday night.

EDITORIAL FEATURES

Today's Guest Editorial

By

The "Guest Editor" selects his own subject matter and it may or may not agree with the opinions of the publisher. The Register will invite and publish from time to time a "guest editorial" by some prominent, practical Orange county citizen.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Bearing in mind that this opportunity should be used, if possible, for some benefit to the community in which it is read and not merely a pastime or fill-in; and also keeping in mind that this is to be taken by each individual in accordance with his or her personal liability; it is therefore a commendation to many but a direct appeal to all too great a majority to "snap out" of their selfishness.

The one outstanding fact that has almost become a pet aversion to me is the pride with which we accept the statement of outside newspapers and statisticians that we are the wealthiest county in these United States, etc., etc. THAT IS FINE and we should be proud to be so fortunately placed; but, WHY is it that we are generally SO POOR in real community spirit when there are so many opportunities presented to us in which we so pitifully fail. Besides there are innumerable worthy projects that could be sponsored which in satisfaction would yield wonderful returns and ultimately would be living monuments that anyone should be proud to leave.

Never have I seen a community that had such a wealth (not often mentioned) of talent in line of the arts such as the musical organizations (now struggling to get along) that have brought fame to our cities and the Community Players through their Southern California Tournament of One Acts who have brought incredible praise by other communities and leading educational institutions of Southern California. Then there is our sister city of Laguna Beach with its large colony of great artists and their annual Art Festival which we should all attend, not for our support of its gallery alone but for the inspiration received by witnessing their superb presentations of living productions of the world famous canvases that have all but immortalized their creators. Every city in our splendid little Orange county has outstanding accomplishments and one can turn in whatever direction his desires may prompt and there are interesting places to see and things to do.

The questions for each one of us to ask ourselves are: What have we contributed toward all of this, or are we going to continue to hold back and let a few do what is done and continually be on the receiving end? Where would this community be if everyone did and contributed no more than I have done or intend to do?

Let us live up to our opportunities and in community spirit make this the wealthiest spot on earth!

SPECIAL RAILROAD RATE

Governor Landon has called a conference in Chicago for the purpose of attempting to get special railroad rates to alleviate the drought sufferers.

On the face of this, it might seem a desirable move. On the other hand, it is hard to understand why, by law, any group should be compelled to sell their services in proportion to ability to pay and, thus, involuntarily be compelled to help the predicament of others. Relief should be either voluntary or the relief should come from all the people and not from any particular group, with the consent and force of the law back of it. These kinds of things lead from one compromise to another until we gain the general impression that we can pass very discriminatory legislation against certain classes for the benefit of others. When this is started, it is very difficult to stop and our present economic plight is largely the result of reasoning of this kind.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

PEACE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—A heavy lull has developed lately among the government's prying squads. The young Hawkshaws in many of the federal services seem to have lost much of their zest for their business.

Some have suspected it is only campaign quiet. Others accept it as a natural reaction to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's public denunciation of two secret-service agents who spied on G-men. Both guesses may be close, but a more impressive explanation is accredited on the inside.

Some weeks before Mr. Morgenthau's decisive action, an investigating genius in another government department was invited to take a job outside the executive branch of the government, and he accepted. The news of his departure was made public, but no excuse was ever offered.

The inside explanation is that this genius also made the mistake of investigating another government official outside his department, this time a friend of Vice-President Garner and Chairman Farley. The investigated official left Washington in a huff and has not returned. Messrs. Garner and Farley are supposed to have engineered the subsequent offer which led the investigating genius into other fields.

Thus, a salutary peace has come to Washington.

VOICES

The question of whether Father Coughlin has been put under good behavior restrictions for the presidential campaign is still an open one, despite the whoopee made at his Cleveland convention.

Several conflicting stories are being spread about what he will do. The inside consensus here is that he will go ahead with what he has started, but in a much calmer tone of voice.

His radio manager has announced, without explanation, the cancellation of his fall and winter series of Sunday afternoon broadcasts, until "sometime after the first of the year." The assumption is he will reserve a schedule on the mutual network for the Lemke-O'Brien ticket, but the trade publication, "Broadcasting," reports that MBS has announced no time reservations yet.

Meanwhile, the Communist party has budgeted itself for $60,000 worth of radio time, wherever it got the money.

ADVICE

President Roosevelt's board of campaign strategy is not unanimously in favor of his coming trip to the North Dakota drought

DIRECT RELIEF OR MADE-WORK RELIEF?

This is the question that will have to be understood and solved by the American people before we can get back to jobs for everyone, who wants to work, at good wages.

We think that the camouflage of giving relief by making artificial work is one of the greatest errors made by the present administration.

There is nothing seriously wrong with a man having to receive relief and there is no need whatsoever of camouflaging and trying to make the man believe he is not getting relief; if a man has done the best he could in trying to earn a living and add to the wealth of the country and fails to be student enough to understand the motives and ignorance back of our Congressmen, he is not to be censured for his predicament. There are very few people who understand a complicated government and can foresee the consequences of the bad acts of Congress. It is much better to have men making an effort to fit into society in a precarious way and lose and be subject to temporary assistance than it is to have men who have not been willing to run risks, assume obligations and play completely safe. For this reason, there is no need whatever of trying to make believe that there is any censure on a man who has made errors and has to be assisted. We would never have any progress, if we didn't have people who made errors. The prices of progress is making trials, many of which result in error and, occasionally success.

So the theory that we must have made-work, for fear of hurting the feelings of the recipients of assistance, is not well founded. There is no reason whatever for a man to hesitate in having temporary assistance in the absolute necessities under emergency.

There is no ground, however, that he should be pampered and given more than temporary assistance. Nor should he be led to believe that this assistance is a permanent gift but that he is expected to, if physically able, to make every possible effort to readjust himself to the social structure and, by becoming a good citizen, pay back to society as a whole what society has advanced to him. In other words, it should not be a permanent gift but should be regarded as a temporary advancement and repaid by his future production. If the recipient had this understanding, he would be very slow to accept any more relief than is absolutely necessary. The made-work bewilders the man and he has no clear way of knowing his moral obligations.

Direct relief is certainly much better in every way. It is not confusing. It is honest and will greatly hasten the return to better times with better jobs and better pay for everybody.

FROM LAW TO LEAVENWORTH

Denver's dapper criminal lawyer, Ben B. Laska, locked the doors of his spacious office suite the other day and started under guard for 10 years in Leavenworth penitentiary.

All appeals having failed, the attorney is in federal prison because he took $10,000 of the $200,000 Charles Urschel ransom money as a fee for defending Albert Bates, one of the abductors of the millionaire oil man.

Thus is chalked up a real victory for the public. Bates and his accomplice, George Kelly, used machine guns in the Urschel kidnapping, but Laska resorted to a craftier weapon—his skill as a lawyer.

If ever a sentence ought to stick, this is one. America too long has tolerated the Laska type of lawyer-lawlessness.

Pop was smoking with a satisfied expression in his private chair and I said, Hay pop, G, how about that Golden Dawn perfume?

O yes, I believe I have heard you mention that subject, pop said, and I said, Aw gosh, pop, G whiskers, you've pritty near said yes every day for a week, so there's nothing left to do but say it.

I have the sensation of being in a corner with my back against the wall, pop said, and I said, Well jimminy, pop, all I need is a dollar and 20 cents to send in advants and then they'll trust me with a dozen bottles to sell, and as soon as they get the rest of the money they'll send me a genuine Goldmark Brothers basket ball.

Yes, I believe you've already outlined the proposition to me more than once, pop said, Well, let's get down to brass tacks, he said.

G, do you mean tawk bizness? I said, and pop said, Precisely. A man of my responsibilities can scarcely put through a deal of this nature without assuring himself that there will be no tampering with the tariff walls. In other words it is my duty to protect my dependents, not to speak of myself, from being despoiled by special privilege and monopoly. In still other words, you must sign a verbal paper, as it were, in which you agree to refrain from selling or trying to sell any of this Golden Dawn stuff to me or your mother, he said.

Well G, I said, and he said, So, you refuse.

No sir, gosh, I said. But how about Gladis? I said, and pop said, Gladis is still technically my daughter but she has a husband of her own. That is to say she has succeeded from my jurisdiction, he said.

Meaning I could sell her some if I could, being one of the first people I'm going to try.

Skeptics have suspected the radio people are in no hurry. The radio set market is at present rather well filled. However, there are technical deficiencies and economic obstacles.

NOTES

State Secretary Hull was asked in a press conference for comment about the American Olympic victories but pleaded off, saying: "We have been kept so busy by other nations' sports," the javelin throwing in Spain, of course.

Military intelligence is still much worried about the sinking of those Spanish submarines by airplane bombs. A complete report on how it was done has been requested. If airplanes can sink subs, some of our current theories of warfare will have to be revised.

A witness at the SEC investment trust hearings was asked for his definition of an investment trust, and gave it: "We invest the money and trust in God."

Day By Day In Washington

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 18.—As we stopped near here, I chatted with the brakeman, asking him how he was going to vote this year.

"Landon," he replied promptly. "And who is going to carry Montana?" I inquired.

"Roosevelt," he said without hesitation. "How do you account for it?" I asked him.

"This state is full of 'reds' and the 'reds' are for Roosevelt," he replied. "and I'll tell you why. These Republicans have been asleep at the switch for three years—they haven't been putting up a fight."

What the brakeman said happens to coincide with what so many people active in politics said in this vicinity that I thought it might be interesting to reproduce his exact comment.

Among people who follow public affairs rather closely, I found also a tendency to worry about the effects of the election itself. For purely campaign reasons, it might be thought, the defense of Mr. Roosevelt is sharp among his supporters and opposition comment is bitter among business men and merchants. But there is genuine concern too about what federal policy is to be toward these western states irrespective of who is elected.

There is, for instance, quite a controversy going on as to the use of public funds. Criticism is heard that the New Deal spent a good deal of money hereabouts and has very little to show for it. What is the use, it is asked, of spending $25,000,000 to feed people and not give them permanent jobs? Also, one group that is interested in a proper water policy for the state of Montana points to the fact that the federal government, over a period of years, has spent $20,000,000 for seed, and yet the same amount spent in water development would have meant a permanent aid and protection against drought, especially in eastern Montana.

This state has plenty of water. But the drive here is to conserve it and use it properly. It is not a question for Montana alone but for federal and state cooperation in this whole region. It seems regrettable that both Republican and Democratic administrations have been permitted to fumble with conservation in this western country and have not worked out better plans for the worthwhile use of land with adequate watering facilities.

I asked some of the exponents of this idea if they expected the eastern people to pay taxes for these experiments, and what benefit the eastern folks would derive. The answer given me was that these water projects would be self-reimbursing because water rights would be a direct charge upon the settlers.

I was surprised to find so much complaint about the New Deal's failure to understand western problems. I had supposed that money was being poured into this western area to everybody's satisfaction. It turns out that there are many sources of complaint about the nature of the projects.

As for the WPA, the argument heard is that the prevailing wage scale idea, when based as it is on wages in building trades and the like, gives a WPA worker about $40 a month and he need work only six or seven days out of the month. This is done in order to conform to the act of congress which Mr. Roosevelt signed after some controversy with the senate. The point is that the wage rates per hour are high and the only way the officials have found to get around the law is to give the WPA workers only six or seven days a month. That's how the prevailing wage rate per hour is paid without running up the expense of the government.

But a man who can get $40 a month and actually work only a few days is not interested in working on a farm for $35 or even $40 a month with board and room besides. For on a farm the hired man has to get up early and work six full days a week in the fields. The WPA job is, therefore, more attractive.

The effect of this upon Montana farmers who want labor to harvest the crops is one of great irritation. It will cost the New Deal a good many votes.

Butte, of course, is strongly pro-Roosevelt, as it is a labor center. Reports from other parts of the state indicate that the Republicans may have a fighting chance to win if they can marshal the discontented vote between now and November. It looks doubtful if they can. The campaign here, however, unlike the eastern states, has hardly begun.

M. Witt, 1319 North Main street, has quite a success story to relate in regard to the apricot season. His nine-acre ranch on La Veta street, West Orange, produced over 25 tons of dried apricots, worth approximately $8400. This averaged over three tons of the dried fruit to the acre, or about $900.

Thoughts On Modern Life

A DOUBTING THOMAS DOUBTS

Norman Thomas is a doubting Thomas in the matter of the Wagner labor relations law.

He was expressed his doubts in a letter to Governor Landon with whom he exchanged letters on labor policy.

Thomas is he writes, "less enthusiastic about the Wagner labor relations law than some of its sponsors because I fear what might happen to the workers under it if the government should become reactionary or semi-Fascist."

This is something of the same idea expressed by President Roosevelt in his address to Congress last January when he said:

"... In thirty-four months we have built up new instruments of public power."

"In the hands of a people's government this power is wholesome and proper."

"But in the hands of political puppets of an economic autocracy such powers would provide shackles for the liberties of the people." Here is the crux of the case against the New Deal philosophy of greater and greater centralization of power in the national government.

It creates a huge arsenal and armory filled with ammunition and weapons of power to be captured by some yet-to-arise dictatorial government which will mean the end of all our fathers fought to establish in the American scheme of government.

Over and over again during the last fifty years one reform movement after another has ended with nothing more to its account than the fact that it had built up vast powers of organization which were later taken over by the forces of reaction and used for exactly opposite purposes.

In the midst of changing administrations we simply cannot afford to lodge too much power in government.

OUR CHILDREN

WASHING THE DISHES

"Don't go away, Roe Marie, until you have washed the dishes."

"What? Have I got to wash the dishes?"

"Certainly. You don't expect me to do it after all I've done today, do you? Surely you can do that much."

"Why didn't you tell me that before I did my nails? Now I've got to spoil them. I've got to waste half an hour. All because I have the dirty old dishes to do. I'm sick and tired of doing the dirty work 'round here. Let somebody else do it."

"Fifty about you, Sis. Asked to do one little thing and you begin belly-aching all over the place. Gosh! You ought to do something once in a while without lifting the roof about it."

"O, yeah? Well suppose you get up and do something for a change. See how it feels. You're a good one to talk. What one thing have you done this week? Mention just one thing."

"Cleaned my shoes and put them in the closet, for one thing, my Lady Cashmere. You were afraid of your dainty finger nails then, too, and left them for Mom to pick up and clean. And I washed and combed your dear little dog you promised Mom you'd tend to if she let Slim give him to you. O, mother, do let me have him. I'll take care of him. Says you."

"O, shut up! You do one little thing and the world hears about it from then on forever."

"Didn't you ask me? I'll leave it to Mom. Didn't she—"

"Go out of here, both of you. Leave me in peace. I'd rather work all night than listen to you. I can wash the dishes just as I've done everything else."

"O, g'wan. I'll help her do them. She can shine her nails again. 'Twon't hurt her. You go lie down and read the paper, if you can get it."

Somebody must wash the dishes. That is the price of every feast even of so simple a meal as evening tea. Most households have to find some reasonable way out lest someone be overburdened. The cook ought to be relieved of this chore if there is anyone about to relieve her. Children ought to be trained to share in the clearing up and washing and putting away. Begin with them when they are able to carry their own bowl and spoon to the sink board. Teach them the right way to handle their dishes and silver, the best way to wash them and dry them. Washing dishes is a trade in its own right.

Washing up after a family meal is no little chore. Little girls ought not to be asked to do it without help, nor should they be allowed to do any part of it until they have been trained to do it well. Teach little ones how to wash spoons, dry them and put them away. Add dishes and plates before cups and glasses, to the list of accomplishments. Little by little train the children to the full task, the pots and pans being the last phase of the learning.

Rightly done, washing the dishes is a pleasant task. Improperly done, it is a dreadful chore. Train the children to it, provide for its doing and there will be peace in the household at least on that score.
